

Republicans Meet To Round Out Their Convention Plans

Ready to Name Temporary
And Permanent Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans gathered here today to complete arrangements for their 1964 convention and pondered whether a new statement by Dwight D. Eisenhower would influence that convention's choice of a presidential nominee.

The former president called Sunday for "responsible, forward looking Republicanism" and a candidate who would carry out that program. But he did not name any names, and he repeated that he does not intend to dictate the convention's choice of a nominee.

The convention arrangements committee's main job today was to pick a slate of officials acceptable to backers of all the major potential nominees.

Proposed as Chairman

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, a moderate, and Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon, generally considered a liberal Republican, were the likely choices for permanent and temporary chairman respectively.

The position of keynote speaker was still up in the air.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the GOP national chairman, has considerable backing for the job, but he said Sunday night that he does not want it.

There also were reports that Hatfield would be proposed for the dual role of temporary chairman, to open the convention, and keynote speaker, to deliver the quadrennial indictment of the opposition party.

Ike's Statement

Backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., an active candidate for the presidential nomination, indicated they would oppose such a move.

Many committee members were more interested in Eisenhower's statement in a copy-right New York Herald Tribune story than in convention arrangements.

The big question was: Had the former president's statement helped or hurt the chances of any of the potential nominees? Miller had no comment. Other party leaders who are not openly backing any of the candidates seemed to think Eisenhower had knitted a blanket big enough to cover all of them.

Political Comment

F. Clifton White, co-director of field operations for Goldwater, said "the general is just reiterating Republican principles. I am sure the general is not going to participate in any stop

French Police Seize 3 Men As Kidnapers

Madame Dassault
Not Mistreated
During Captivity

BY DAVID MASON

PARIS (AP) — Three men described by police as "little gangsters" are being held in the kidnapping of Mrs. Marcel Dassault, wife of a millionaire French warplane builder, who says she wasn't mistreated during 35 hours as a prisoner.

"The chief was charming with me," the 63-year-old Paris socialite said after two gendarmes stumbled onto the kidnapers' hideout Sunday. "But they were dangerous men."

Mrs. Dassault, who had belted one of the kidnapers in the stomach with her umbrella, said the men provided her with covers during a chilly night and brought her grilled steak and boiled potatoes when she complained of being hungry.

Underworld Figures

The three suspects, said by police to have been mixed up in prostitution and other underworld activities, were being questioned today.

Mrs. Dassault was freed when two village gendarmes, participating in a check of farms and summer cottages north of Paris, shouted "Is anyone here?" outside an abandoned-looking farmhouse.

They broke in when a woman's voice replied, "Yes. Don't leave." A gunman meekly handed over his pistol and said some friends offered him a little money to guard a farmhouse. He was Mathieu Costa, 26, a bartender, of the French island of Corsica.

The second man arrested, Pierre-Gabriel Darmon, 35, a native of Algeria, was grabbed by police who waited for someone to return to the farm. His brother, Gaston Darmon, 33, who police said once operated an Algiers brothel, was caught by motorcycle policemen who saw him running across a field.

Senate Debate on Civil Rights Bill Enters 12th Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate civil rights debate enters its 12th week today with leaders still trying to put across a package of amendments designed to pick up the wavering votes needed for passage.

They presented the package—prepared by Republican and Democratic civil rights forces in consultation with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—at party caucuses last week and found further tinkering is needed.

Republican senators scheduled their fourth conference on the proposed amendments today.

Their leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said he expects it to be the last.

Dirksen and assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota said they hoped the package could be submitted to the Senate this week as a substitute for the House bill now being debated.

Shoots 3 Children to Death Because 'They're Better Off in Heaven'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Robert Henry Nicolaus, 31, admitted shooting his three children to death because he thought they would be better off in heaven, sheriff's deputies reported.

"I felt I had a duty," Sheriff's Sgt. John Crow quoted Nicolaus after the Sacramento man's arrest Sunday.

The state division of highways analyst was booked into Sacramento County jail for investigation of murder.

Deputies said Nicolaus told them he shot Roberta, 7, Donald, 5, and Heidi, 2, in the trunk of his car where "they were looking for a key he told them he had lost."

The bodies were found in the car, parked in North Sacramento.

The two older children were by a former marriage. The youngest was by his present wife.

Hundreds Killed, Injured in Stadium Stampede in Peru

An Anguished Father Is Aided by a friend as they carry the body of his son who was killed Sunday in a riot at a soccer game in Lima, Peru, which resulted from a dispute which arose over a decision against the Peru team. Peru was playing Argentina in an international game. (AP Wirephoto)

Fatalities Estimated at 260 to 315 in Reports on Tragedy After Soccer Game

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A stampede of 45,000 spectators in a Lima sports stadium after police fired tear gas at rioting soccer fans left hundreds dead today in possibly the worst sports disaster in history.

Authorities still were unable to come up with an official count of victims in Sunday's tragedy. Lima's La Prensa said 260 bodies were counted. The newspaper Expresso said 315 were killed. Hundreds were injured.

Many blamed the tear gas for the frantic rush to the exits, and a government statement, taking note of this, declared: "It was necessary for the police to use tear gas in an attempt, however unfortunately futile, to prevent further disorder. The government is deeply concerned over the fatal results that originated in a trivial incident."

This was a reference to the fact that the riot erupted after a fan jumped from the grandstand to protest a referee's decision in the soccer game between Argentina and Peru. The teams were meeting for the right to play in the Tokyo Olympics.

The crowd had witnessed a close contest with neither side able to score in the early action.

After 15 minutes in the final period, Argentina scored the first goal. Within minutes of the final gun, the Peruvians sent the ball into the net.

The crowd roared. But the referee refused to allow the score, saying Peru had committed a foul.

Fans screamed in protest. The Peruvian players continued to play, although they also protested the decision.

Fan Ruus Howard Referee

The clock ticked on. Only moments were left when a spectator jumped out of the lower-priced seats and raced across the grass toward the referee.

Police cornered the fan and dragged him off. Other spectators poured onto the field.

The referee called off the game. Police escorted him off the field. The players headed for the dressing rooms.

Termination of the game only excited the fans more. "They threw seat cushions

Undersea Missile Substitute Sought

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The director of the Polaris program said today the submarine missile may be an effective weapon until the 1980s and the Navy is studying advanced underwater missile concepts as possible successors.

Rear Adm. I. J. Galantin said systems being considered are deep diving submarines made of titanium or glass which could hug the ocean bottom; missiles powered by nuclear energy or exotic fuels and deployment of large missiles in submerged tubes anchored in the sea.

He outlined the proposals in a paper prepared for the annual meeting of the Aviation and Space Writers' Association.

South, Central Parts of State Hit by Storm

Extensive Property
Damage but No
Injuries Reported

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gale force winds belted southern and central Wisconsin early Sunday, causing extensive property damage and disrupting electrical service. No injuries were reported.

The storm hit hardest in 12 counties—Clark, Richland, Vernon, Wood, Columbia, Trempealeau, Dodge, Dane, Fond du Lac, Rock, Jefferson and Waushara.

Winds destroyed a barn and caused other damage on the Herbert Kromie farm at Arlington. A shed and other small buildings on the Burnell Erickson farm south of Portage were damaged.

Trailer, Homes Damaged

An unoccupied 50-foot trailer was twisted out of shape by winds near Randolph, Dodge County, and several houses were damaged at Beaver Dam.

James Halverson, 17, and Terry Campbell, 18, both of Janesville, were credited with saving three Milwaukee men whose boat swamped on stormy Lake Ripley in Jefferson County late Saturday. Wayne Hazen, 22, Normal Bzdowska, 34, and Andrian Budda, 55, were thrown into the water. The two youths went out in a boat and brought the trio to shore.

An all night search on Lake Koshkonong in Jefferson and Rock counties ended early Sunday when Fletcher Pinkard, 51,

County in Virginia Told to Integrate Schools by Fall

U. S. Supreme Court Sets
Next September as Deadline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ordered Prince Edward County, Va., today to desegregate its public schools on a date which will guarantee that these petitioners (Negro students) will get the kind of education that is given in the state's public schools.

Black added that, "If it becomes necessary to add new parties" to the lengthy litigation to accomplish the purpose ordered today, the federal court in Virginia "is free to do so."

Court Will Decide

The U.S. District Court in Virginia, Black said, has power to order the public schools opened if such an order is "required to assure these petitioners (Negro students) that their constitutional rights will no longer be denied them."

"The time for mere 'deliberate speed' has run out, and that phrase can no longer justify denying these Prince Edward County school children their constitutional rights to an education equal to that afforded by the public schools in other parts of Virginia," Black stated.

Disagree on Attorney

Justices Tom C. Clark and John M. Harlan noted they agreed with the reasoning in Black's opinion, but disagreed with the holding that federal courts are empowered to order re-opening of the county schools.

Black said the case would go back to U.S. District Court in Virginia "with directions to enter a decree which will guarantee that these petitioners (Negro students) will get the kind of education that is given in the state's public schools."

County education officials closed the schools in 1959 to avoid court-ordered admission of Negroes.

The Prince Edward racial controversy has been fought in state and federal courts since May, 1951. It was one of the original school desegregation cases decided by the Supreme Court on May 17, 1954.

Justice Hugo L. Black delivered the court's main opinion today.

Victims listed earlier included Orville Kosharek, 47, of rural Boyceville; Henry Yanna, 45, of Boscobel; Marlene Nagy, 16, of South Milwaukee; and Cruz L. Vallin Jr., 28, of Racine.

Arnold Bahler, 69, of Milwaukee, died Sunday of injuries sustained in a one-car crash early Friday on Interstate 94 in Racine County.

Two Rub Lake youths, Richard Tlusty, 17, and Terry Strebig, 16, were found dead under their overturned car in Taylor County early Saturday. Skid marks indicated the car slid some 130 feet, climbed an embankment, returned to the road and overturned.

The second man arrested, Pierre-Gabriel Darmon, 35, a native of Algeria, was grabbed by police who waited for someone to return to the farm. His brother, Gaston Darmon, 33, who police said once operated an Algiers brothel, was caught by motorcycle policemen who saw him running across a field.

Listening Devices Everywhere

U. S. Sleuths Kept Busy Overseas Hunting for 'Bugs' in Embassies

BY LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. sleuths overseas have discovered that fireplaces can have eavesdroppers.

One such fireplace was in the office at the residence of the American ambassador in Prague. Late last year State Department security men found a tiny radio hidden in the framework.

170 Found in 15 Years

The midjet transmitter, which could beam conversations in the room to eavesdroppers outside the ambassador's home, was described today as the most sophisticated device yet uncovered in a continuing check on attempts to spy against U.S. envoys abroad.

Over the past 15 years some 170 hidden electronic snipers have been ferreted out of the offices and homes of American officials in foreign lands, mostly behind the Iron Curtain.

The bugging is still going on and so are searches by specially trained State Department security men. Their biggest find security men are briefed on the latest advances in eavesdropping technology.

Armed with modern detecting equipment, the overseas investigators travel out of Frankfurt, Beirut and Tokyo headquarters to "sweep" official quarters in the more than 100 countries where the U.S. government has buildings. If Congress votes the money, they will set up another headquarters in Africa.

"Bug-Proof" Rooms

Even with the stepped-up program, the security men cannot be 100 per cent sure they have uncovered all the spy devices. It is a standard rule for U.S. diplomats, especially in Communist countries, to assume unfriendly ears are trying to listen in.

Just turning on a water faucet or blowing a hi-fi set is not enough to offset a secret listener.

Dean Jones in Dooley Role For New Film

Portrayal of Navy Doctor His Biggest Chance, Says Actor
 BY BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The problem of playing a recent legend faces talented, Alabama-born Dean Jones.

The actor leaves next month for Madrid and Viet Nam to portray the leading role in "The Tom Dooley Story." It's the best chance of his career, yet he admits that he was reluctant to take it.

"How do you portray a saint?" he asked.

Indeed, Dooley did appear saint-like, a dedicated Navy doctor who turned his back on the prospect of a prosperous practice at home to return to Laos and try to lend medical assistance. But Jones researched deeper.

Besides the Man
 "I found out that Dooley was an intensely human being," Jones said. "He apparently tried to hide his altruistic nature behind a flip image. He seemed to be afraid that people would go mad about him."

Jones has read all of Dooley's books. He has seen all the films on Dooley he could find. This includes a "This is Your Life" show, two television documentaries and some Navy footage.

"The Navy stuff was the most useful," said Jones, "because it caught him unposed. The camera panned around and there he was treating a woman with bound feet. That gave me a chance to observe the real essence of the man."

Physicians Set Up World-Wide Roster To Aid Travelers

NEW YORK — U. S. and Canadian travelers who require medical aid while abroad can be assured of access to competent treatment by more than 2,000 English-speaking physicians in 50 countries on four continents, according to Travel Weekly.

The trade newspaper disclosed that the doctors, for the most part trained in the U. S., Canada or Great Britain, had become active participants in the Medical Assistance to Travelers. The non-profit organization, in the process of development for the last six years, is now functioning on virtually a worldwide basis. Its president and founder is Dr. Vincenzo Marcolongo, a heart specialist of Rome, Italy.

He said that quality medical service is now available 24 hours daily to North American travelers in major cities throughout Europe, Asia, Africa and South America. Fees have been standardized at $8 for office visits; $18 for hotel calls; and $15 for night calls, Sundays and local holidays.

Headquarters of the new medical network are in Rome.

MAIL CALL

Dear Taffy: Do you have any special hairstyles for hair too thin? My hair always falls limp and looks just awful, especially during the summer. I set it almost every night, but it still falls straight before the day is over. When it gets straight and stringy my friends actually tell me I look like a witch. And I do! What can I do besides get a broomstick?

Sincerely,
Bedraggled

Dear Bedraggled: You need a permanent! Why not ask your mother if she will help you give yourself a home permanent? One of the new body permanents is especially good for thin hair. Read all the instructions on the box and be sure to follow every single one. Want to bet your friends will drop the "witch" nickname this summer?

Keep happy,

Keeping Glass Top Table Clear

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: I have very poor luck keeping a glass top table clear. Have tried several window-cleaning preparations, but with little success. What do you suggest?

A: I was experiencing the same problem with a glass top table in my Virgin Islands beach cottage, having no glass cleaning preparations handy. A native watched my efforts a while, then handed me a cloth and vinegar. I tried it and found it worked like a charm. No streaks, no cloudiness.

Q: Recently I have noticed some dark streaks and smudges on my beaded home movie screen. How can I clean it safely?

A: You can't. Any cleaning fluid would remove the beads as well. However, you can buy more beaded material which can be stitched or stapled over the old. Any camera store can get it for you, if they don't stock it.

Q: Last winter was our first in our newly - purchased, not-new home. We found the basement got too warm. To overcome this, I want to cover the boiler and pipes with asbestos cement which someone just recommended to me. Would it be better to wait until the heating season is here again, or apply the cement now to cold surfaces?

A: Asbestos cement is best applied to cold surfaces. Otherwise the moisture will evaporate before the cement is properly set. Best to do the job now.

Q: I plan to put in a patio at our weekend place. There's a tree stump in the area I want to use for the patio. How can I get rid of the stump?

A: If the stump is not near a building or anything that might catch fire, the quickest way would be to bore large holes from the top down to the roots and fill these with kerosene; then burn the stump. Or fill the holes with a stump-removing compound or full strength weed killer, widely available at garden supplies centers. When this is absorbed, refill the holes. This hastens the rotting of the wood fibers. Be sure the stump is sawed off as close to the ground as possible. Have you considered fastening a large round top on the stump and making it into a natural patio table?

Use Range Top

It's the time of year to reduce the household chores to a minimum and enjoy yourself. That's when top-of-the-range meals become favorites. The American Meat Institute suggests such meat as ground beef patties, franks, canned or precooked sausage and luncheon meat slices which can be prepared in minutes when pan-broiled. Meats-in-cans such as stews, spaghetti with meat and sauce and corned beef hash require only a few minutes to become table-ready.

Wisconsin Catholic Daughters Convene in Appleton

"The job of the priesthood is a job for every Catholic," the Most Rev. Jerome J. Hastrich, auxiliary bishop of the Madison Diocese told the Wisconsin Convention of the Catholic Daughters of America at their Saturday evening State Night Banquet in the Four Seasons Room of the Conway Hotel.

It is the task of individuals to bring God to man and man to God, he told convention delegates and guests. Contact with people who serve in this individual priesthood are as close as some ever get to God, he said, saying that every Catholic should take God with him, where ever he goes. He should think not only of his own salvation, but of that of everyone.

Bishop Hastrich, who attended the opening meeting of the second session of the Second Ecumenical Council in Rome in September, said that the spirit of brotherhood at the Council is the same spirit the Catholic Daughters are trying to cultivate. He noted that the bishops at the Council were not only dressed differently, but were of many different racial characteristics, emphasizing that while there is unity in the church, there is not uniformity. The Council leaders undertook the change of church liturgy in the belief that it would change the world.

Prayers in Latin

He recalled that until the Council of Trent, the people of the world prayed in their own languages. In the days of Christ it was Aramaic, then Greek and then Latin. At the time of the Council of Trent, when Latin became the official language of the church, all who learned to read learned Latin. It was to be the unifying language. During the Protestant Reformation, the printing press was used by Protestants, enabling them to make use of the vernacular. When the Catholic Church fixed the prayers of the mass in Latin, people began for the first time to grow away from the mass.

Making note of the changes since the Trent Council, the Ecumenical Council leaders acknowledged that attendants at mass were no longer participants. Such a division of the clergy and the faithful was never intended, he said. The people in the Catholic world have the responsibility of keeping abreast of the Council proceedings, and the Bishops of praying for its success.

Everyone's Task

Through the change in the liturgy, each person will have new responsibility in the church, the speaker said, adding that "Christ said, 'Love Your neighbor as I have loved you' unto death'."

Every Catholic can serve in this royal priesthood by individual contact and example, he advised. They can give information and inspiration; work on mission projects, such as those for migrant workers in Wisconsin, giving educational assistance, material help and religious instruction; work with such projects as LAMP, the Latin American Mission Program, and help at interracial centers in Wisconsin, where the task is to break down the prejudice between white and colored Catholics.

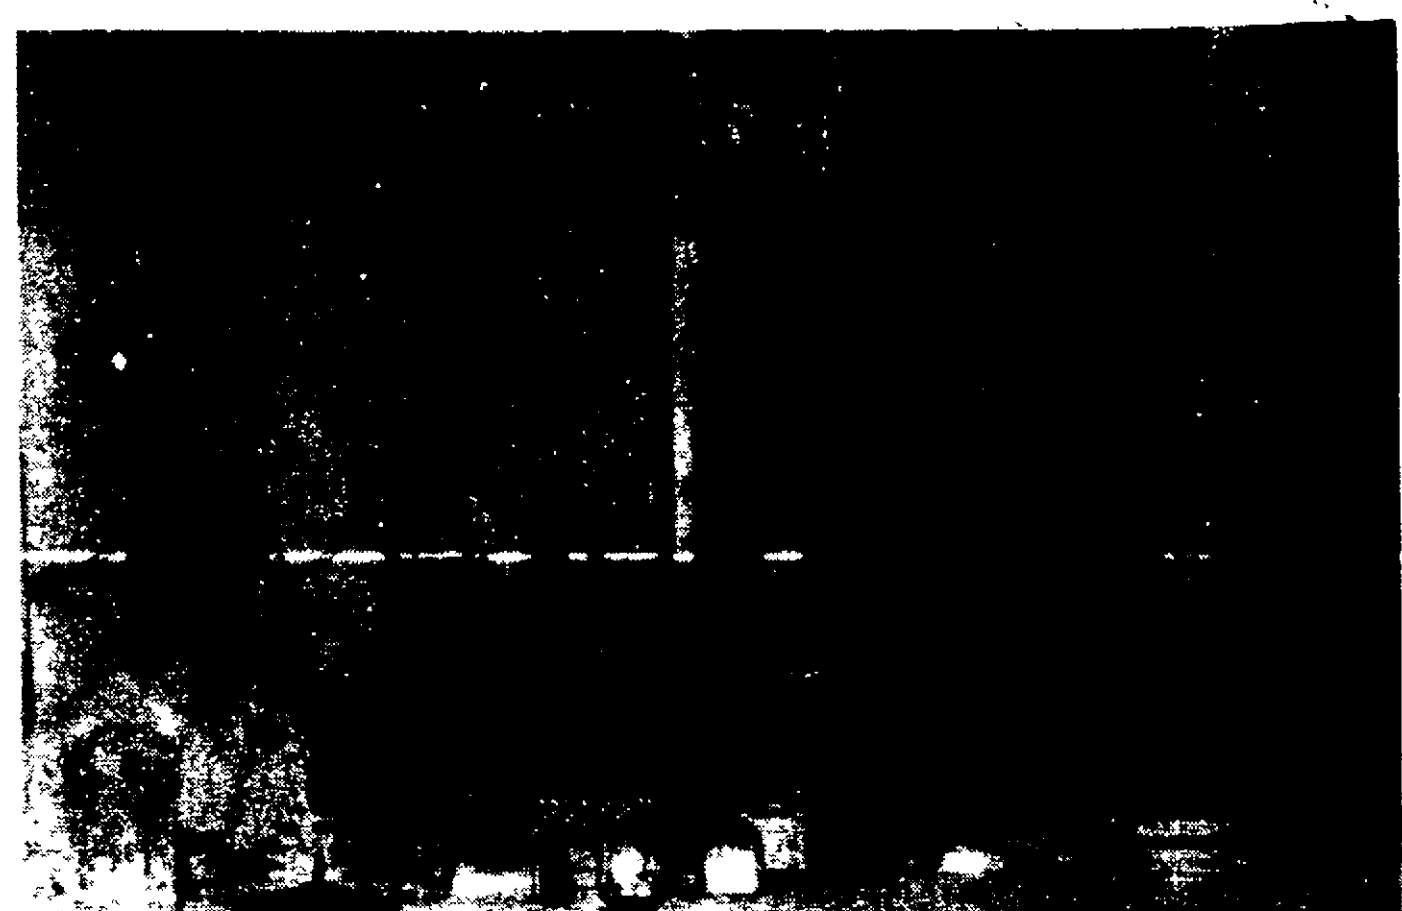

"We can't save our own souls if we are concerned only about ourselves," he concluded. "No matter what vocation a person follows in the world, he still has the vocation of being a priest."

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Adam Grill of St. Mary Church, chaplain of Court Ave Maria, greeted guests at the State Night event.

Austin Bonger, vocal director at Xavier High School, presented vocal selections, accompanied by Roland Huebner.

Two-Day Session

The Saturday evening dinner concluded two days of business sessions at which Court Ave Maria, 1011, was hostess. "Brotherhood in Christ was the convention theme, with Mrs. Robert Rossmessl, Grand Regent of the Appleton Court, as general convention chairman. Mrs. Rossmessl was elected new State Monitor by Convention delegates at the Saturday afternoon business session. She was also elected one of five delegates to the national convention in July at Hollywood, Fla.

State officers had charge of the informal opening and hospitality session Thursday evening. Registration Friday morning preceded the formal convention opening and welcome by Mrs. Rossmessl and Mayor Clarence Mitchell.

Inmate Dignity

The Rev. Andrew L. Nelson, chaplain at Winnebago State Hospital was speaker at the noon luncheon Friday, telling of "The Role of the Christian Woman in the World Today". He said that through his work with the emotionally ill he has come to realize the importance of woman's appreciating her innate dignity and the importance of the role she plays in the welfare of all mankind. Women are happiest when giving to others, he said, and have within them the power to change the way of life for the entire world.

What is needed in the world are the womanly virtues of self-sacrifice, love and giving. We need, he said, more love and less hate, more reverence and less aggression. Women are coming to the fore as the equivalents of their male partners, he asserted. They have gone through much in coming to equality under the law, he said, disagreeing with Aristotle's belief that woman's single purpose was procreation. The contribution of the single woman cannot be underestimated, he said.

Subtle But Real

Women should become a living example of the spirit of total dedication to God, radiating love to all mankind. Their power may be subtle, but is no less real, the speaker stated, saying women are the physical, moral and spiritual fountains of life, and that they should assume whatever responsibilities they can fulfill in every walk of life. The world will be better to the degree that women give themselves. Christianity gave woman dignity, he said, and she is now moving into her place in the world, to mold it as a woman. "The more she is herself," he concluded, "the more influence she exerts."

Mrs. Frank Harden, Sturgeon Bay, vice state regent, presided at the Friday luncheon meeting.

The Wisconsin Convention of Catholic Daughters began with an informal program Thursday evening, including business sessions and workshops and ending with the dinner meeting Saturday evening. During one of the breaks in the business of the organization, Mrs. William G. Keller, Appleton; Mrs. Ross Congo, Appleton; Mrs. W. J. Feeney, Sturgeon Bay, and Mrs. Peter Muraski, Oshkosh, got together to discuss the programs and work of their respective courts.

a crafty five of hearts. South played the seven of hearts, naturally enough, and West saw that his partner wanted him to ruff.

When West obediently ruffed with the four of spades, South forgot his childhood training. He leaned over the table and over-ruffed with dummy's ten of spades.

Since this was a family game, North was declarer's wife. And if you think the over-ruff didn't threaten the safety of the home, you don't know the lady.

Loaves Contract The over-ruff cost South his contract. No matter how South played the trumps East was sure to get a trump trick.

I sometimes get letters on this sort of play. If South leads the jack of spades from dummy, East covers with the king. South can take the ace and queen, but then East wins a trick with the nine.

Since South also had to lose a diamond trick, he was down one. Yes, dear reader, South could have saved himself by executing a squeeze play on West. Put a player who over-ruffs at the wrong time surely can't be expected to know about squeezes.

The contract (and a happy home) is saved if declarer refuses to over-ruff at the third trick. Instead, he discards a diamond from dummy. Now he can pick up the trumps without loss and will still have a trump left in dummy to ruff out his own losing diamond.

Loose, meshy, weaves collect more soil and must be pressed over soft padding so nubs don't flatten out.

A wise shopper will double check colored items to see that the dyestuff has penetrated the fabrics as wear and washing may rub off the surface color exposing uncolored fabrics underneath.

Testimonial for Motherhood Best Ann's Heard From Father

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Some times I think you print things just to get a rise out of people.

Right now I am so burned up I can hardly see this paper. You told a grandmother who said she enjoyed every minute of raising her four children that she had a very poor memory.

Are you a mind-reader? Maybe she did enjoy every minute of it. Where do you get off telling her she didn't?

We have four children and the fifth is expected any day. I can't wait till that baby gets here. Our youngest is a two-year-old little lady and it will be wonderful to have an infant in the house again.

Each stage of raising children is fun and every child is different. I have enjoyed every minute of being a parent and now you can call me a liar, too.

Davenport Dad Dear Dad!! Well, I admit you had me fooled for a minute. Your testimonial for motherhood is the first I've ever received from a father.

How marvelous that you have enjoyed every minute of being a parent. And now, may I hear from your wife?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Larry and I are going to be married in September. I want him to wear a wedding ring because my Dad always wore one and I love the way a wedding ring looks on a man's hand.

Larry does not want to wear a wedding ring. He says it means nothing. Furthermore, he insists that down at the office where he works the men who wear wedding rings, run around the most and act the least married.

Larry has observed, too, that the women around the office think wedding rings on men are sexy and challenging. They actually pick these men as targets. I don't want to make a big flap over this but we both would like your views. Why do you think some men wear wedding rings? — 24 Carat Question do so because their wives want them to.

Dear 24 Carat: I believe the men who wear wedding rings

Unless this means a great deal to you, give up, honey. It's apparent your guy will continue to fight it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: From time to time you have had letters in your column from kids who are disgusted because they work hard at their studies and don't do as well as the kids who cheat.

In our school the kids don't have to cheat to get good grades. All they have to do is butter up the teachers. I know three girls who don't know an isosceles triangle from a dunce cap but they get B's because the teacher can't put his arms around them while he is explaining things.

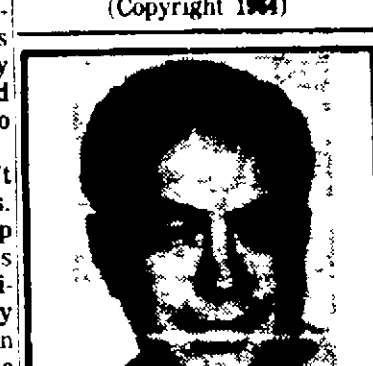

The Spanish teacher is an old maid with a weakness for football players. One kid whose Spanish vocabulary consists of "Si Si Senor" told me that he is going to get a C for the semester. He was out of town with the team when they took finals last semester so the teacher gave him an oral quiz and he made a B.

I wish you'd print this letter and some advice to a hard-working student who wonders if it's worth it. — Gibraltar.

Dear Gibraltar: A pleasant personality is an effective lubricant for the machinery of human relations, not only in school, but elsewhere. There is no substitute, however, for perspiration combined with a little midnight oil.

You sound like a kid who can't make it either way. I suggest you smile a little more—both at the teachers and the text books. (Copyright 1964)

SEAMS TO ME Fit Dress Accurately

By Patricia Scott

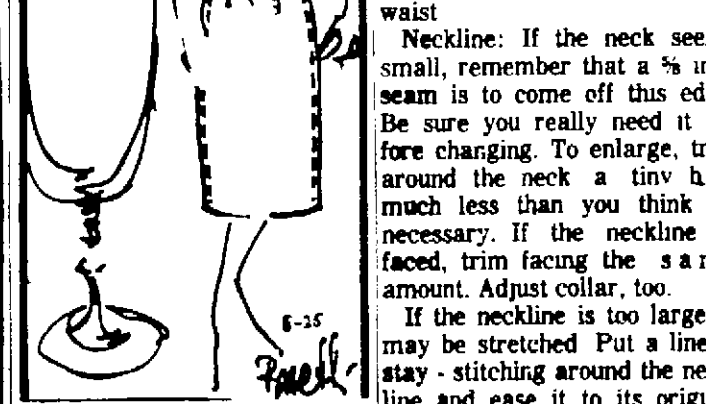

You should fit a dress accurately when it is partially completed. Even if you have altered the pattern, you'll find that adjustments must still be made because fabric molds to the figure better and doesn't fall the same as paper. Here are a few things to check when you reach the fitting stage.

Bodice: Put bodice on and close fastenings accurately. Check darts and other details. Pin seams and darts that must be changed. Check side seams. Fit them snugly at waistline, but allow enough ease through the bust. Check armhole (armhole) seam and avoid any altering that will change position or size. If you must adjust, place a row of pins where armhole stitching line should be. Remove bodice, fit pattern to armhole, matching stitching line of pattern over pin line. Recut armhole along pattern cutting line to retain original shape. Baste sleeves in and try on bodice to check armhole seam. Now, check waistline, using a cord snugly around the waist. If waistline seam is off, place a row of pins or chalk mark along cord. For a princess line dress, alter darts and seam lines so waistline falls in place. The widest part of the double pointed darts on this type of dress must fall exactly at the waist.

Neckline: If the neck seems small, remember that a 1/2 inch seam is to come off this edge. Be sure you really need it before changing. To enlarge, trim around the neck a tiny bit, much less than you think is necessary. If the neckline is faced, trim facing the same amount. Adjust collar, too.

If the neckline is too large, it may be stretched. Put a line of stay-stitching around the neckline and ease it to its original size. If it is too large, try one of shoulder seam. Lift outer of three things 1) Sew a 1/2 inch edge of shoulder seam and see

Squalus Rescue Was Great Sea Drama of Life, Death

Submarine Sank in Atlantic With 59 Aboard 25 Years Ago

BY JAMES CALOGERO
PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—A small floral wreath will bob in the Atlantic 15 miles off Portsmouth on Saturday where a sea drama of life and death held a nation's attention exactly 25 years ago.

The submarine Squalus sank in 240 feet of water off the Isle of Shoals on May 23, 1939, with 57 Navy men and two civilians aboard.

It was to be many hours before a waiting nation would learn that 33 men were alive in two separate compartments of the 310-foot submarine.

Tense-Filled Days
And for two tense-filled days all attention focused on the spot in the Atlantic until 33 men who survived the disaster were brought to the surface in one of the great rescue feats of the sea. Even the submarine itself eventually was brought to the surface in an historic salvage operation in what 25 years ago was the deepest water in which Navy divers ever operated.

Twenty-four years later — on April 10, 1963—the nuclear submarine Thresher passed the same spot en route to her own untimely death with 129 men, 230 miles at sea in more than 8,000 feet of water—also during a test drive.

Never Recorded
Thresher never was recovered—and because of the extreme depth may never be.

The Squalus was raised, refitted and went off to World War II as the Sailfish. She acquitted herself well, torpedoing 45,029 tons of Japanese shipping in its Pacific patrols.

The wreath marking the 25th anniversary of the Squalus sinking will be tossed to the sea by a man who survived the sinking and later returned to her when she was rechristened Sailfish.

He is Gerald McLees of Portsmouth, now a civilian employee at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard and former electrician's mate on the Squalus. The anniversary tribute was arranged by the Squalus Memorial Chapter of the Submarine Veterans of World War II.

Relives Disaster
McLees relived the disaster for The Associated Press on the silver anniversary.

"We had left Portsmouth on Monday and anchored 15 miles out. On the next morning, May 23, I was in the three-foot crawl space of the forward battery room, taking cell readings.

"Allen Bryson was in the hatchway just above me with his headset on so we could keep in touch with all other compartments—the normal practice on a submarine.

"We started the dive and had gone down about 50 feet in about 40 seconds when Bryson shouted to me 'The engine room's flooding!' It was 8:40 in the morning.

"I jumped up out of the battery section and headed for the forward torpedo room right behind Bryson. The submarine was going down stern first so we had to fight our way uphill.

Slid Backwards
"There was no big bang when we hit the bottom. The Squalus just slid backwards and we settled easily on the bottom."

McLees continued: "We could hear the high-pressure air system trying to blow out the water ballast and enable us to surface. It was a losing battle.

"There were about a half-dozen people in the forward torpedo room when I got there. Others followed me. The rest of us who lived through it were in the control room.

"We in the forward section didn't know that 26 of our shipmates were dead in the after section. We didn't hear about it until we reached the surface a couple of days later."

Cruel Duty

In another part of the ship, the disaster was to hand Lloyd B. Maness a cruel duty. He was nearest the hatch which separated the flooding sections from the dry area. If he didn't shut that heavy metal door everybody on board might perish.

Maness waited until the last possible moment, permitting the passage of a few men soaked by the incoming sea water. Then, as water poured through the hatchway—and with not another second to spare—he shut the door on the fate of those men aft.

After the rescue of the survivors was completed, Maness said: "At such a time there is no time for sentiment. We are trained to act rigidly, so I gave no consideration to the fate of my shipmates.

First Action

"It was not until the first impulsive action was over that I began to feel the awfulness of the men's situation in the after section.

"Particularly, I thought of Sherman Shirley, my chum I was to be best man at his wedding the next Sunday."

Maness was one of four men from the Squalus to serve on her again when she was the Sailfish. Later, he transferred to another warship and was killed in World War II action.

Lt. Oliver F. Naquin, the Squalus commander, looking back to the tragic day in an interview at his Arlington, Va., home, said:

"There was no outcry. Nobody shouted 'Oh, my God!' or anything like that. Only one man mentioned the people aft, and I shut that off real fast.

Rescue Operations

"If one or two men had panicked, the whole thing might have gone up in smoke." Squalus rescue operations were put under way from the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard within minutes after she failed to report by radio.

The salvage ship Falcon, carrying a 16-ton diving bell, left New London, Conn., and anchored over the Squalus the next day.

Navy divers operated from the Falcon to prepare the Squalus hatches to accept the diving bell so no water would get into the sub as the men left in small groups to be raised to the surface.

The first diver reached the Squalus at 9:15 a.m., May 24. The diving bell was lowered only four hours later.

The bell made four trips to the submarine to rescue all the survivors, but the final trip was fraught with danger and excitement.

Lines Frayed

The lines had frayed and become tangled and the last eight of the survivors and the diving bell's two operators were trapped for four hours between the Squalus on the bottom and the Falcon on the surface.

Next came the epic salvage.

For two months Navy divers, working only short periods on the bottom because of the high pressure, tunneled away under the boat to make a passage for salvage chains.

Finally all was ready and air was blown into the pontoons which were to pull the sub from the bottom.

The first lift came on the morning of July 13. All appeared to be going well. Suddenly, a great burst of foam erupted, and one of the pontoons shot out of the water, falling back with a splash just as another pontoon surfaced.

Sea Boiled
The sea bubbled and boiled. Churning foam spread in an ever widening circle.

In the midst of this confusion came a new eruption—the bow of the submarine shot out of the water then slowly settled to the bottom.

All the salvage work had been undone in a few, brief moments. The salvagers had to do it all over again. It took all summer.

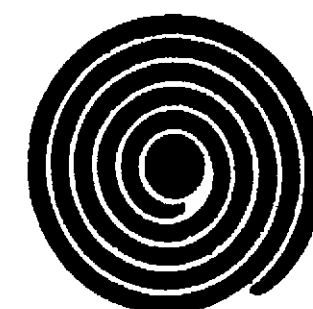

Finally on Sept. 15, the submarine was towed to a drydock in the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard.

The bodies were removed from the after compartments.

A Naval Court of Inquiry found that a faulty sea valve caused the sinking.

Plans Approved by Redeemer Church

New Building Part of $275,000 Three-Phase Construction Project

Our Redeemer Lutheran Church congregation Sunday unanimously approved building plans for a church and educational unit.

Construction will start this summer, and it is hoped the building will be completed by Christmas.

The building will be the first of three proposed units, with additional education units and larger church facilities to be added in 10 to 15 years. The initial unit will cost an estimated $112,000, including property, with the estimated cost for the total building program is $275,000. A fund drive for the initial unit has been completed.

The church will be built on a 24-acre site on Midway Road west of U. S. 10. The parsonage will remain at 2023 S. Harmon St.

To Sell Chapel

The congregation, organized in the fall of 1948, is worshipping in a temporary chapel at 447 E. Calumet St. This will be sold when the new church is completed.

The new building of about 3,100 square feet will house education rooms and a worship area seating about 220 persons. It was designed by Schutte-Phillips-Mochon, Milwaukee architectural firm whose local representative is Jack Fieweger.

The congregation is waiting for a Wisconsin Public Service Commission (PSC) decision on whether it can hook onto Appleton water lines serving the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center. The center and the church site are in Town of Menasha. City council turned down a request for water service, and the congregation took its request to the PSC. The church building will tie into Town of Menasha sewer lines.

Has 140 Members

The congregation belongs to the Wisconsin - Upper Michigan Synod of the Lutheran Church in America. The Rev. C. W. Briggs is pastor. There are now about 140 members.

The congregation was established in the fall of 1943 as a mission of Trinity Lutheran Church, and was formally organized in April of 1953. It serves the southern area of Appleton and Town of Menasha.

Richard Van De Weghe, vice president of the congregation, conducted the meeting Sunday. John Law is chairman of the building committee.

German Language Camp for Youth Planned at Waupaca Area Lake

Venture Is First Attempted in Wisconsin; UW-M Professor in Charge of Organization

Waldland, a German language camp for children and the first venture of this type in Wisconsin, will be conducted at Shadow Lake Retreat near Waupaca Aug. 16 to 29.

The camp will be directed by Dr. Erhard M. Friedrichsmeier of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Department of German. He and a friend conducted a similar camp in Minnesota for three years.

The camp will provide formal instruction in German, camp activities in which German is used and an atmosphere as representative of German culture as possible. It is open to boys and girls 10 to 12 years of age.

"Children are more capable of assimilating a foreign language than adults," Dr. Friedrichsmeier said. "Especially at this age when they are extremely capable of grasping the rudimentary aspects of pronunciation which can be difficult for someone older."

Environment Important

"It is important to expose children to a foreign language in an environment as typical of the foreign country as possible, so they do not feel it as a classroom experience but identify the experience with something like camping, which they enjoy more than the classroom," he said.

To foster a German atmosphere at the camp, campers will be given German names and only these will be used. German signs will designate various facilities such as "Parkplatz," "Schule," "Mädchenquartier," "Jungenquartier" and "Speiseaal." The units in which children will be housed will bear the names of German states.

The children's spending money will be converted to German currency, which they will use to purchase German candies and records and other items in the camp store. Children with dirmds and lederhosen will be encouraged to wear them in camp.

The camp will accommodate up to 100 children, with a counselor for every 10 students. The camp dean, who has had experience teaching German, heads the instructional program, and is assisted by college or graduate students majoring in German.

In addition to the usual camp activities such as swimming, boating, games, arts and crafts, there will be two formal class sessions each day for the study of German, attended by all campers, and several smaller group sessions for review and personal instruction. Children will not be required to speak German in their play, but instructions for games will be in German. The shift to German in the classroom will be gradual, but after one week no English will be spoken in the classroom.

At the camps he helped conduct in Minnesota, children conversed in German in classes after the second week, Dr. Friedrichsmeier said. Enrollment at these camps tripled in three years.

Late Start

Camp plans had a late start because of difficulty in locating a campsite, the professor said. The camp is a private venture. Consultants are Dr. William Jenkins, associate dean of the School of Education, and Dr. Eugene Norwood, chairman of the Department of German, both of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, and Dr. Herman Ramras, professor in the University of Minnesota Department of German.

Dr. Friedrichsmeier was born in North Dakota and grew up in Germany. On his return to the United States after World War II, he graduated from Lakehead College, Seshoygan, in 1952, took graduate work at the University of Wisconsin and earned his doctorate at the University of Minnesota.

Camp tuition cost of $20 includes two weeks' board and instructional materials and books.

Our Redeemer Lutheran Church congregation Sunday unanimously approved these plans for a new building on Midway Road. This sketch by Schutte-Phillips-Mochon, Milwaukee architects, shows the proposed building in 10 to 15 years, at an estimated cost of $275,000. Construction will start this summer on the

The new state commander is Carl Krouse of Madison.

The Ladies' Auxiliary elected Mrs. Reinhart Gressenz and Mrs. Lawrence Steffens of Appleton as two-year term trustees, and Mrs. Martin Hanegraaf, Kimberly, as a three-year term trustee. Mrs. Frank Ott, Milwaukee, was elected president.

Centennial Resolutions

The convention passed resolutions on a number of controversial issues, including shared time, family allowance plan, civil rights, obscene literature, the Supreme Court decision on prayer and Bible reading in public schools and Communist speakers at state-supported schools.

The convention approved a resolution recommending the public adoption of the Family Allowance Plan similar to that in Canada in which allowances of $6 a month for each child up to the age of 10 and $8 a month for each child from 10 to 16 are provided by the government.

The resolution stated "the major portion of the children in the United States are raised by a small number of families, and many of these families are below the wage level needed to support children in an adequate manner." Thirty-nine other countries have devised systems of financial aid to help support children, it said. The resolution recommended the plan "so that parents of large families may be able to raise their children in accordance with the American standard of living."

Insist on Equality

Noting that "compulsory segregation by its very nature imposes a stigma of inferiority upon the segregated people" and "many Catholic organizations have remained aloof from this struggle of man for his natural rights," the convention resolved to "insist upon political equality of all citizens regardless of race. # Expect Whiting Paper to Resume Operation Shortly

Portable Unit To be Used by Fire-Struck Firm

BY GERALD W. ODOM
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
MENASHA — The George Whiting Paper Co., which this morning was operating approximately 25 per cent capacity after being hit by a disastrous fire Saturday night, is expected to be back in full operation by mid-week with the arrival of a portable steam generating unit, George A. Whiting, president of the company, announced this morning.

It was at first feared the company would be shut down for several weeks.

The furnaces and boilers for supplying steam to the plant were destroyed in the Saturday fire. The blaze, which at first was feared to have caused $250,000 in damage, apparently started when a boiler went dry and burned out.

It is expected to take at least another 24 hours before the area can be entered and examined because of the intense heat.

Damage to the actual physical structure has now been estimated at no more than $100,000, although the loss of operations will raise loss to the original figure of $250,000.

Firemen fought the intense fire for nearly four hours Saturday night before it was brought under control. They were hampered by fear of an explosion in the boilers and were unable to use water against the superheated metal.

Firemen were recalled to the plant at 1:15 a.m. Sunday when a soot collector pipe in the upper stories of the boiler room burned and fell into the boilers and flamed up.

Whiting said this morning the portable unit is expected to arrive and be in operation by mid-week. He noted it will be on an emergency basis only.

No manufacturing was possible this morning, although the firm was operating its finishing plant and embossing department.

Whiting noted the company is "still filling orders."

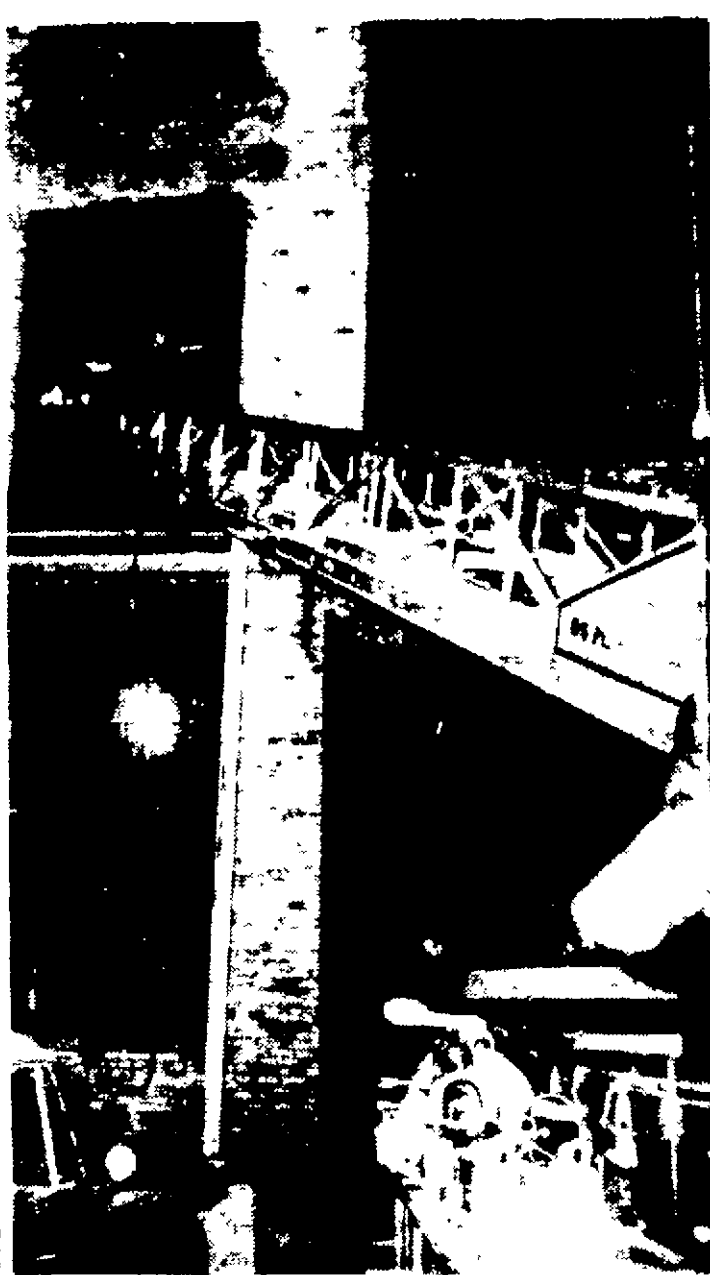

Whiting said "everybody has been real nice about this." He noted offers of assistance have come from several manufacturing plants in Neenah-Menasha and from the cities.

However, he pointed out "There is nothing anyone can do" to help.

Menasha Firemen Fought a Fire at the George Whiting Co., which left an estimated $250,000 in damage, for nearly four hours Saturday night before bringing it under control. The fire apparently started when a boiler ran dry and overheated. Firemen anticipate it will take the furnaces and boilers until at least Tuesday before they are cooled enough to start clean-up work.

Accident, Theft Make Bad Weekend for Popcorn Men

It was a bad weekend for popcorn men.

An accident in which a car pushed a parked car into a popcorn wagon on E. Wisconsin Avenue early Sunday morning put an Appleton popcorn man out of business temporarily.

Appleton police said a car being driven west on E. Wisconsin Avenue by Henry B. Menzies, 20, of Butler, skidded into a parked car about 1:30 a.m. The parked car jumped across the curb and smashed into a popcorn wagon owned by Sam A. Khory, 2115 Meade Road. The wagon was knocked 15 feet off its concrete foundation. Khory estimated about $315 damage to his wagon which he had opened for business three days ago.

32,000 Cards To Determine Bridge Fate

25 Per Cent Return Will Make Successful Little Lake Survey

MENASHA — The fate of the proposed bridge across Little Lake Butte des Morts may rest in the hands of approximately 32,000 Fox Cities residents.

This is the number of persons needed to make up 25 per cent of the total amount of cards given out to motorists June 1 in a massive bridge traffic survey to be conducted in Appleton, Neenah-Menasha, Kaukauna and Little Chute.

Leroy Empey, district highway engineer, has noted that approximately 25 per cent return of the cards is needed to make the survey a success.

State highway department personnel plan to distribute 130,000 cards to motorists on 11 bridges in the five cities.

The purpose of the survey is to discover where motorists are going and where they are coming from. The most basic reason is to determine if a bridge is needed.

Empey and other officials connected with the survey have strongly appealed to motorists to fill out the cards and mail them when they are received. Empey said all cards, no matter how many are received, should be mailed. Motorists will receive a card each time a bridge is crossed.

Officials estimate that 25 per cent return on the cards given out will give them enough information to make a decision on the need for a bridge. A preliminary engineering survey on a bridge has been completed and examined. The bridge traffic survey will decide whether another step will be taken.

Bridges to be surveyed in Neenah-Menasha are Racine and Tayco Street bridges in Menasha and Commercial and Oak Street bridges in Neenah.

Lawrence Choruses Prove Sunday Delight

BY DON VORPHEL of Lawrence College

Sunday afternoon's concert by the Lawrence College Men's and Women's choruses proved as refreshing as the spring breeze thanks to three imaginative conductors, their particular youthful choirs and a cluster of works by Giovanni Gabrieli, No. man Dello Joio and Antonio Vivaldi.

The occasion was the second and last formal program of the season by the two groups. Both choruses consist largely of college and conservatory freshmen who, for some delightful reason, always impress us with the fervor and enthusiasm of their singing, although they lack the finesse that proceeds from experience and musical maturing. Take your pick, though — there is much to be said for high-spirited art, a commodity which was abundantly present at this program.

Heading up the effort were conductors Dr. Edgar M. Turrentine, Dan Sparks and Mari Taniguchi, each of whom brought a distinctive style to the performance. Turrentine's work was free-wheeling and verry; Sparks tended more toward understatement; Miss Taniguchi gives breadth and suaveness to her choruses.

Styles Appropriate
Important for the audience was the fact that each conductor got pretty much what he demanded, and that the styles were appropriate to the music performed in most cases.

Turrentine led off with Gabrieli's "In Ecclesiis," a rather lengthy and dramatic exploration of brass, choral and soloistic sounds in a 16th century sacred idiom. Chorus and brasses were suitably balanced, a happy situation in a room so delicate and intimate as Harper Hall. Shirley Barstow and Dale Duesing offered handsome contrasts in brief solo sections.

Sparks, leading a 13-voice men's group, produced three short works — "All Through the Night," "Black is the Color of My True Love's Hair," and the Randall Thompson "Testament of Freedom" — each with quietness and gentility.

Dello Joio Work
He then took the combined men's and women's choirs through a more vigorous rendition of Dello Joio's "A Jubilant Song." Pianist Kathleen Link provided a smartly-rhythmic foundation for the American composer's jumpety style, and soprano Janice Reinke added a trim solo effort to complete the case.

An observer noted that Dello Joio may have written a more extensive catalogue of works than J. S. Bach himself, and that in such volume, he was bound to "hit" with a few selections; happily, this was a pleasant "hit," though considerably short of Bach's genius.

Miss Taniguchi provided the spark for the program's second half, a performance of the Vivaldi "Gloria," for soloists, mixed voices and instruments — in this case, oboe and organ. There was little doubt as to where the meat and potatoes of this concert lay, once Antonio had spoken Soprano Ann Uber and oboist Ruth Dahlke combined in setting pace with a most agreeable working of "Domine Deus."

With them, soprano Janice Reinke, mezzo-soprano Alice Haselden and organist Eileen Neau gave steady performances. And Miss Taniguchi's choristers surrounded them with a resonant, broad sound — a far more mature choral sound than most groups of this size and station.

Believe Rock Throwing Vandals Killed Ducks
Six ducks which had been kept in a special pond in the Highland Memorial Park, 3131 N. Richmond St., were found dead by cemetery officials Saturday. Sheriff authorities who investigated said the ducks were killed by vandals who apparently used the ducks as rock throwing targets. Other minor damage was inflicted to the area near the pond, but none of the graves were disturbed.

Sophisticated Audience Goes to the 'Hills' With Ramblers—And Loves It

BY MARK E. OLIVA
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

An audience of nearly 500, somewhat sophisticated music lovers were "taken to the country" by the New Lost City Ramblers' Saturday evening, and solid applause with a double encore showed it enjoyed every minute of the "foot-stompin'" hill music and "country corn" humor.

The concert proved the Fox Valley's best folk music exposition since blues masters Sonny Terry and Brownie McGhee appeared on the same stage at Lawrence College's Stansbury Theater in 1961.

The trio, Mike Seeger, John Cohen and Tracy Schwarz, demonstrated the various types of country music—Appalachian Mountain ballads, Bluegrass, A. P. Carter family songs—and told with each style how it developed and where it came from. The Ramblers' instrumental versatility left most of the audience a little awe-struck. Seeger, Cohen and Schwarz each took turns on the fiddle, banjo and guitar. The group also made frequent use of a host of other instruments — mandolin, autoharp, mouth harp, even ordinary kitchen spoons.

Highlights of the evening's program came on solo performances. One of the most outstanding numbers was Seeger's interpretation of the Gantt family song, "When First Unto This Country," self-accompanied on the beautiful autoharp.

Cohen took the spotlight with a song filled with simple "country corn" humor, "Talking Hard of Country Music—Appalachian Luck Blues." Schwarz stepped in a different direction with his lead solo. Singing in the modern Bluegrass vein, he used a strong banjo to accompany a driving version of "Pretty Polly."

Educational Program

The Ramblers added a quality to their concert found in few performances. They made the program as educational as it was entertaining. In the current renaissance of folk music, many branches of folklore are being bypassed, both from international annals and our own American heritage.

Country music of Appalachia often has been discarded as

'Eisenhower' to Arrive At Railroad Museum For Memorial Day

The Dwight D. Eisenhower, the war-famed locomotive given to the United States by England, will arrive at the National Railroad Museum in Green Bay on Memorial Day.

A committee headed by Ross Quatsoe announced today that the museum program for the arrival of its most prized exhibit will coincide with the celebration of Memorial Day.

Quatsoe said the Memorial Day arrival of the Eisenhower is particularly appropriate because not only has the engine gained most of its fame from its wartime service, but the man for whom it is named, Dwight D. Eisenhower, first came into international prominence as commander in chief of the European theatre during World War II.

The locomotive was delivered to Railroad Museum Board Chairman Harold Fuller in Southampton, England last month. Special delegations from the British and United States governments greeted the engine as it arrived in New York City. Since that time the engine has been on tour from the East Coast to its final destination at Green Bay. The Dwight D. Eisenhower will become a permanent part of the rapidly growing national Railroad Museum at Green Bay.

The convention voted support for shared time education in which Catholic students take some subjects in parochial schools and some in nearby public schools, and recommended that it be made available to other faiths as they request it.

"This will permit larger enrollments to benefit from a religious philosophy of life guaranteed by the Constitution and at the same time reduce the number of teachers and costs since courses demanding expensive equipment can be taken in the public school," the resolution said.

In other resolutions, the convention: —Recommended that the Wisconsin Legislature investigate and define the obscene matter problem and strengthen state laws —Maintained that "parents have the right to demand cooperation from the state to the extent that it refrain from placing obstacles in the path of religious education and that the Supreme Court reverse its decision banning the saying of the Lord's Prayer and allowing Bible reading in public schools."

—Recommended the regulation of visiting speakers to state-supported colleges and universities when the individuals are known to be members of the Communist Party, are known to advocate the overthrow of the Constitution of the United States, and/or have pleaded the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States in re-

Florida GOP to Test Goldwater Strength

Most Political Interest Centered on California's Primary Slated for June 2

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's strength among Florida Republicans will be tested Tuesday in a primary that highlights this week's political schedule.

However, much of the political interest is on a race that won't be decided until June 2: The Arizona senator's battle with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for California's 35 Republican convention votes.

Other events this week include Tuesday's runoff primary in Oklahoma and Saturday's primary in North Carolina and a Republican convention in Mississippi, also Saturday.

Final Plans

The Republican National Convention arrangements committee meets here today to go over final plans and choose the three top convention officers.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., and Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon appear to be the likely choices for permanent and temporary chairmen. There is strong support for Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the party's national chairman, to deliver the keynote address.

The Florida GOP primary is to decide whether a slate of delegates pledged to Goldwater and endorsed by him, or an unpledged slate, most of whose members favor Goldwater, will cast the state's 34 convention votes.

Assured Votes

Either way the senator is assured a good bloc of votes. He also is expected to pick up Mississippi's 13 votes at that state's GOP convention.

At the start of the week, The Associated Press survey of first ballot votes showed this lineup:

Barry Goldwater	304
William W. Scranton	70
Henry Cabot Lodge	44
Nelson W. Rockefeller	40
Margaret Chase Smith	15
Richard M. Nixon	11
Favorite sons	102
Uncommitted	225

The Florida election also includes a Democratic gubernatorial runoff primary between Mayor Haydon Burns of Jacksonville, who led the field in the May 5 primary, and Mayor Robert King High of Miami.

Mikoyan Meeting Japan's Emperor

Cannot be Silent

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —North American Baptists ended an unprecedented conclave here with a "message to the world" outlining the beliefs of their members.

The three-day 150th anniversary jubilee, which brought together for the first time representatives of the seven largest Baptist groups in North America, ended Sunday after an address by evangelist Billy Graham, who called for a religious revival to obtain equal rights for all Americans.

The Baptists stood "as an affirmation of our belief" in approving the message, drafted by key leaders from each body.

Areas covered included salvation, religious liberty and freedom, the importance of the individual, Christian love for all men and belief in the Bible. It also included mild and brief statements on race relations.

The message did not specifically state that Baptists believe in the absolute literal truth and divine inspiration of the Bible. This is a point of controversy among Baptists.

Graham told the jubilee: "Many people today want social freedom and deserve it. They are marching for it, picketing for it, but they will not get it in this decade or the next unless we have a religious revival and convert the people to Jesus Christ."

PTA President Urges Stand on Civil Rights

CHICAGO (AP)—The national president of the PTA said today time is fast running out for "a just solution to the injustices, inequalities and deprivations suffered by some children because of their race or color."

Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins told the annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, "our great organization cannot stand on the sidelines and refuse to be involved. The PTA cannot be a silent spectator."

Mrs. Jenkins added in an interview that she fully expects a resolution calling for a strong PTA stand on segregation to be offered to the convention for a vote on Wednesday.

National Congress

She said however that the time is not yet ripe for the national congress to merge with the National Congress of Colored Parents and Teachers, which has 300,000 members in 14 states.

Such a merger, Mrs. Jenkins said, would deprive millions of Negro children in the south of PTA services and thus do more harm than good. She said this view is shared by Mrs. Jerome Z. Morris, Montgomery, Ala., president of the Negro group.

"These people are doing such fine work," Mrs. Jenkins said, "but there are many places in the South where they cannot be-

Judge Retains Jurisdiction Over Youth

Held for Shooting Parents May 16 At Farm Home

JEFFERSON (AP)—Jefferson County Judge Charles E. Kading decided today to retain juvenile jurisdiction over Gerald Krueger, 16-year-old rural Waterloo youth accused of fatally shooting his parents May 16.

Kading said the youth's constitutional rights had been invaded and held that the waiving of jurisdiction to permit prosecution as an adult would not be in the best interest of Krueger or the public.

Not Critical

The judge said he was not criticizing Jefferson County Sheriff Roger Reinel or Dist. Atty. Robert J. Shier for "their energetic and productive investigation" but added:

"The fact remains, however, that if this child had been afforded the protection of counsel, he would not have talked and could not have been quoted, second hand, throughout the state."

Young Krueger has been held since May 18. He was taken into custody after the bodies of Roland Krueger, 47, and his wife, Lillian, 45, were found buried on the family farm five miles east of Waterloo.

Youth Quoted

Authorities quoted the youth as saying he killed his parents because he felt they were too harsh in disciplining him. "They treated me like a baby," officers quoted him as saying.

Judge Kading heard arguments Thursday on whether the boy is a child in the eyes of the law. The district attorney asked for the waiver to try Krueger on a first degree murder charge. Jerome Slechta, court-appointed counsel for the boy, argued for treating the boy as a juvenile.

Nasser Promised Loan For Development Plan

Khrushchev Given Endorsement On Kremlin's Coexistence Idea

CAIRO (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev ended a 17-day visit to Egypt today after warning up the farewell with a promise of a $277 million loan for President Gamal Abdel Nasser's second five-year plan.

In return, Nasser gave Khrushchev a wholehearted endorsement of Soviet foreign policy, including the Kremlin's views on peaceful coexistence.

A joint communique by the two leaders placed the Egyptians squarely behind the Soviets in the struggle between Peking and Moscow for influence in Africa's new nations.

Cheering workers, given a half holiday, jammed the airport for Khrushchev's departure, and upwards of 2,000 troops and security men were on hand. Nasser gave his guest a warm embrace. A 21-gun salute boomed out as the Soviet leader waved before entering his airliner.

Departure Delayed

Khrushchev's departure was delayed an hour and a half, but the reason was not announced.

The joint communique was made public after a final banquet Sunday night in the gardens of former King Farouk's luxurious Kubba Palace.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union had decided to help the United Arab Republic with its development plan, which begins next year.

He said the assistance would include a steel plant with an annual capacity of one million tons and a 10,000-acre model farm where Soviet techniques would be used to reclaim the desert. He left it to Nasser to tell the cheering crowd the amount of the aid.

Loan Terms

Terms of the loan were not disclosed, but it was presumed that they called for repayment over 12 years at 2.5 per cent interest. The previous $500 million in Soviet credits to Egypt was on this basis.

The United States has supplied Egypt with $750 million in assistance in the last 10 years.

The U.S. State Department warned last fall that further U.S. assistance was imperiled by Nasser's intervention in Yemen's civil war and the Senate tacked a rider onto the foreign aid bill barring aid to countries "engaged in or preparing for aggressive military effort."

In the Khrushchev - Nasser communique, Nasser defended

Critical Time In California Campaigning

Rockefeller and Goldwater in Clash June 2

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Campaigning in the pivotal California primary goes into its final week today with Republican presidential aspirants battling in opposite ends of the state.

The presidential hopes of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater clash June 2. The plum: 86 votes at the Republican National Convention.

Weak Areas

The candidates each campaigned today in an area where they are weakest — Goldwater in the north and Rockefeller in the south.

Goldwater flew to Redding Sunday night and planned to make several appearances today in the northern end of the Sacramento Valley.

Rockefeller, riding a wave generated by his Oregon primary victory, launched a statewide drive in San Diego today. He will concentrate his efforts in vote-heavy Southern California, a conservative stronghold.

Draft Scranton

The formation in California of a committee to draft Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton was announced over the weekend. It was indirectly pro-Rockefeller.

Rockefeller's campaign tour hit a detour when his scheduled appearance tonight before an Elks Lodge in Long Beach was canceled. Ross McKelvie, exalted ruler of the Long Beach Elks Lodge 888, said the cancellation order came from top-ranking national officials of the organization.

Pay Lewis of Whittier, Calif., a former grand exalted ruler, said the Elks' constitution did not allow political or religious speakers.

26,084 See Braves Take 2 From Cards

Torre Boosts Average to .370; Spahn, Lemaster Get Victories

BY DAVE O'HARA
MILWAUKEE (AP)—A bit of advice for National League pitchers: when the Milwaukee Braves unlimber their big bats, duck for cover.
The Braves erupted for 43 hits in winning three straight games from the St. Louis Cardinals during the weekend. The barrage boosted Milwaukee into third place, one and a half games behind league-leading Philadelphia and one away from runnerup San Francisco.
After downing the Cards 8-4 with a 14-hit attack Saturday, the Braves continued their onslaught in sweeping a doubleheader 7-4 and 10-0 Sunday before a crowd of 26,084, the largest since opening day.

15-Hit Attack
Joe Torre collected four singles while Felipe Alou and Eddie Mathews each had three safeties in the Braves' 15-hit attack in the first game. Torre then cracked his eighth and ninth homers and singled, while Rico Carty and Denny Menke had three hits apiece in the nightcap of the twinbill.
Torre boosted his average to a mighty .370 and raised his runs batted in total to 30 while catching both games in the absence of Ed Bailey, sidelined with a pulled thigh muscle.
Carty, a rookie with awesome power who belted two homers Saturday, finished the doubleheader with four hits, raising his average to .322. Menke broke loose for a double and a single in the first game and his third homer, a double and a single in the aftermath. That hiked the young shortstop's average to .330.
Hammerin' Hank Aaron was held to three hits in the doubleheader, but one was his fourth homer, a line shot over the left field wall.
Rescued by Sadowski
Warren Spahn was raked for 11 hits before being rescued by Bob Sadowski with one out in the sixth inning of the opener. Sadowski stopped the Cards on one hit the rest of the way in preserving Spahn's fourth victory in seven decisions.
Denny Lemaster, a fireballing southpaw, turned in his best effort of the season while boosting his record to 5-2 with a nifty three-hitter in the second game. Lemaster struck out 10 and didn't issue a walk as he dazzled the Cards with a blazing fast ball, sharp curves and tricky change up pitches.
The Braves gave Lemaster all

Current Streak
Torre's current streak lends weight to Bragan's claim. The catcher-first baseman, whose three-week spring holdout led both leagues, has hit at a .418 clip since May 1, raising his average to .370.

On the other hand, if you had asked Bobby Bragan Sunday after Torre's hitting rampage led the Braves to a 7-4, 10-0 doubleheader sweep of St. Louis, the Milwaukee manager would have told you that Joe is the fastest commodity in the game.
"He's the most valuable piece of baseball property today," Bragan said, following Torre's 7-for-10 spree that lifted him from seventh to third position in the National League batting derby. "I wouldn't trade him for anybody, not even Willie Mays, because I'd be giving up eight years."

Tony Conigliaro Suffers Broken Bone in Hand
Conigliaro was forced to leave the first game of the doubleheader with Kansas City and was rushed to Santa Maria Hospital where X-rays disclosed a hairline fracture of the fifth metacarpal bone.
Red Sox trainer Jack Fadden estimated Conigliaro would be out of the line-up 10 days.

Speaks at Banquet
Thurston Lauds FVL Record, Cites Hornung's Intense Desire to Play
BY HENRY SIMON
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
Fox Valley Lutheran High School celebrated the greatest athletic year in its history at the FVL All-Sports Banquet Sunday night, and guest speaker Fred (Fuzzy) Thurston predicted that Lutheran High "will continue to have great athletic teams in the future."
The Green Bay Packer offensive guard noted that with FVL's new athletic field and a combined record of 55 wins, 17 losses, and one tie in 1963-64, the Fox Valley Lutheran student body owes a debt of gratitude to the parents and friends who made such achievements possible.

Bob Matias, of the Fox Cities Foxes, is shown scoring the 10th run of the game as he was one of the standouts in Sunday afternoon's 14-0 victory over Dubuque at Goodland Field. Matias had just tripled with the bases loaded and then scored on a wild pitch. Frank Cardwell is the Dubuque pitcher waiting for the throw at the plate. (Post-Crescent Photo)

LITTLE CHUTE—Dick Mulry's bases loaded triple in the third inning brought the Little Chute-Kimberly Papermakers from behind and paved the way for a 5-3 victory over the Menasha Macs in a Fox River Valley Baseball League game here Sunday afternoon.
Tom Konetzke's 2-run homer in the first frame had given the Macs the lead, but Mulry's blow put the Papermakers in front and they were in command the rest of the way.
The win was the second straight for the defending league champions while the loss was the first for the Macs.
Mehlberg Winner
Faye Mehlberg went the distance for the Papermakers in picking up his second win of the campaign. Although touched for eight hits, he kept them well scattered and managed to work his way out of jams, including bases loaded situations on two occasions.

Mehlberg recorded five strikeouts and walked only one batter. Konetzke started for the Macs and was relieved in the first inning by Bob Karisny. Karisny took the loss.
Karisny reached base in the first inning when he was safe on a fielder's choice and Konetzke followed with his home run for a 2-0 Menasha lead.
The Papermakers got one run back in the last of the first when Floyd Hammen singled, moved to second on a walk to Bob Arko and both runners advanced on a fielder's choice. A wild pitch allowed Hammen to score from third.
3-Run Triple
Mulry's 3-run triple was set up in the third when Arko singled, VanderWyst was safe on an error and Phil Williams walked. Mulry then drilled out his 3-bagger.
The final run for the Papermakers counted in the fifth

Foxes Snap Out of Slump, Rip Dubuque

Win, 14-0, As Hawkins Gives 4 Hits

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
The Fox Cities Foxes gave good indication that they were glad to return to their own Goodland Field confines Sunday afternoon as they pounded out a 14-0 Midwest League victory over Dubuque.
Ed Hawkins hurled a brilliant 4-hitter for his third straight win of the season and received some potent support in the hitting department.
Tonight, the Foxes and Dubuque will tangle again and Tim Sommer is the likely starter for Manager Billy DeMars' Foxes.
Bob Matias, Fred Rico and John Matias stole the hitting honors for the rampaging Foxes who suddenly snapped out of a slump which saw them drop seven of their last eight games and fall to fourth place in the league.

Bases-Loaded Triple
Bob Matias had three hits in five trips including a triple with the bases loaded. He had five runs batted in. Rico pounded out four singles in five trips and had four RBIs. John Matias collected singles in his first three times at bat and scored four times. This trio accounted for 10 of the 13 hits and seven of the 14 runs.
Hawkins was in complete command all the way as the Packers never had more than one base runner on any occasion. Hawkins walked only two and fanned six batters. He received flawless support from his mates while Dubuque had trouble in the infield and committed five errors.
The Foxes started quickly, scoring three times in the first inning and twice in the second. For insurance they added five in a wild fourth inning, three more four times, and struck out 15, including four in the first inning. The ball got away from the catcher on one of the whiffs. The first six men to face the southpaw went down on strikes.

3-Run Homer
Farrell passed Dave Teresinski and Ron Hayek to open Pius' sixth After Mousis fanned, Ben Hoefs sent a long drive, which hit well up on the light pole in right field and was good for a 3-run homer, breaking a 1-1 tie. Mike Idzikowski followed with a triple and stole home for the last run.

Kenosha St. Joseph took home the third place trophy by edging Milwaukee Marquette, 2-1. It was the second such award for the Lancers, who beat St. Mary in the same game last spring. St. Joseph scored two runs in the sixth on two singles, an error and a double to short right by winning pitcher Denny Kertz, sending in the deciding run. Marquette had scored in the first.

Kertz gave up six hits and struck out nine. Loser Tom Nowinski only allowed five hits while whiffing 10. Neither pitcher walked a batter.

in the fifth and a single tally in the seventh. Four singles and three Dubuque errors accounted for the three runs in the first inning. Rico drove in one of the runs and Bob Matias two. In the second, Rico sent a pair across the plate with a single.

The big fourth inning saw the Foxes parade 10 batters to the plate. There were four hits in the inning, one Packer error and a pair of runners were left stranded. Bob Matias delivered the key blow when he tripled to deep right-center with the bases loaded.

Bob Ceresse started for Dubuque and was relieved in the fourth by Frank Cardwell who went the rest of the way. Ceresse lost his first game of the season and was charged with eight runs, five of which were earned. Ceresse and Cardwell were both off their mark as four Foxes were hit by pitches, including Steve Huntz twice. Cardwell had three wild pitches and they walked six batters between them.

May Doubles
Dave May doubled home two runs for the Foxes in the fifth and May scored minutes later when Rico singled.

Only two Dubuque runners managed to get to second base off Hawkins. Don January singled and went to second on a passed ball in the fifth and Frank Baker singled and also got to second on a passed ball in the eighth.

Stock Car Racer Killed In Luxemburg

LUXEMBURG, Wis (AP)—A stock car race driver was killed Sunday night when his car rolled over and was hit by another machine as he was crawling out of the window. The accident occurred during a race at the Kewaunee County Fairgrounds.

A. B. Van Stratton, 32, of Green Bay, father of two children, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Vincent's Hospital at Green Bay. He suffered head and internal injuries.

Van Stratton was competing in the second qualifying heat of the stock car races on the one-third mile clay track. His car rolled over on its side and was hit from the rear by a car driven by Laurel Joniaux of route 2, Luxemburg. The impact came just as Van Stratton was escaping from a window of his overturned machine, and he was crushed in the pile-up. Track officials said a tie rod on Joniaux' car apparently had snapped and he was unable to maneuver around the overturned car.

Scores First FRVL Win

Manitowoc Defeats Klubbers Behind Ayres

MANITOWOC — A 14-hit attack and strong pitching in the late innings by Bob Ayres led Manitowoc to a 8-3 victory over Kaukauna in a Fox River Valley League game here Sunday.

The win was the first in league play for Manitowoc, a new entry in the loop this year, and the loss was the first by the Klubbers.

The victors bunched their runs, scoring three in the second, two in the third and three more in the sixth. Kaukauna counted one in the second and two in the third and was blanked the rest of the way by Ayres. Ayres, a former LaCrosse State hurler, recorded 10 strikeouts and walked only one batter. Ed Schaefer started on the hill for Kaukauna and was relieved by Leigh Wachel in the fourth. Schaefer was charged with the loss.

Bob Lutz led the Manitowoc attack with three singles in five trips. Jim Ziarnik tripled in the sixth with a man on and Bob average 79 points from .391. He hit his fifth and sixth home runs of the month Sunday for a total of 9—five less than his 1963 output.

Pirates Sweep Doubleheader From Giants

While Milwaukee closed to within 1 1/2 games of the NL lead, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati kept pace with double victories. The Pirates stunned San Francisco 3-0 and 5-3; the Reds downed Chicago 6-5 and 12-4. Los Angeles employed Sandy Koufax in relief to nail down a 3-0 victory over Philadelphia and Houston blanked New York 5-0 in a night game.

Veale Stops Giants
Pittsburgh southpaw Bob Veale stopped San Francisco on two hits and fanned seven Giants in the opener for his fourth victory. Rookie right-hander Tom Butters drove in three Pirate runs in the second game and recorded his first major league victory with help from relievers Bob Priddy and Al McBean.

Mays had one hit in five at-bats and his batting average fell from .400 to .393.

Chicago's Billy Williams regained the top spot, going 3-for-2 to climb from .394 to .398, but the Cubs succumbed to Bill Henry's clutch relief pitching in the opener and an eight-run Cincinnati inning in the finale.

Henry halted Chicago's two-run ninth inning rally to save the victory for Jim O'Toole. Tommy Harper and Vada Pinson each hit safely twice in the Reds' third inning second-game outburst.

Koufax in Relief

Koufax, making his first relief appearance since 1962, quelled a Philadelphia threat in the seventh inning and the Dodgers whipped the Phillies for the first time in seven meetings. Joe Moeller, the winner, allowed only one hit through the first six innings but faltered in the seventh when Johnny Callison led off with a single and Wes Covington followed with a double. Koufax retired the next three batters and gave up one hit the rest of the way.

Rookie Wes Parker cracked two doubles and a triple to pace the Dodgers' attack.

Houston right-hander Bob Bruce ran his record to 6-1, firing a four-hitter and striking out 10 Mets. Mike White drove in three runs with a first inning single and a double in the seventh.

Reichardt Definitely Will Play Baseball

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wisconsin's Rick Reichardt, whose awesome power brought a second straight Big Ten batting title and a flock of major league baseball scouts, said Sunday it's only a matter of time before he signs a major league contract.

"I'm definitely playing baseball," said the versatile Badger athlete who was a guest of the Braves at the Milwaukee-St. Louis game. "It's just a question of when I'll sign."

The major decision to be made by the junior from Stevens Point is whether he'll sign this summer or return to Wisconsin in the fall and receive a degree before inking a major league contract.

"I'm going to make my decision by the middle of June. My

Thurston Lauds FVL Record

"The coaches are confident that Caffey will do the job for us."

An added feature of the trade, he mentioned, was that the Eagles may be drafting first next December, and the Packers would thus have a chance to grab the No. 1 prospect in the country. The Packers are looking for a quarterback or line backer, he added.

Main topic of conversation for the next three or four months should be the linebacking situation, he said, and this is because Vince Lombardi's primary concern is with the strength of the defense.

The ability to be uncommon is very important to the young athlete, he emphasized, and advised that the capacity to think, the capacity to work, the capacity for courage and the capacity for justifiable pride are four traits that should be developed by all youth.

Members of Lutheran High's football, basketball, judo, track and cheerleading squads were honored at the banquet. Fox Cities Foxes general manager Ralph Mueller served as master of ceremonies.

FVL Coache

Coaches honored included Gerry Kaniess, Dave Umms, Gerry Schultz, Lynn Sackenheim and Gerry Malmann.

The varsity football squad had the largest turnout of candidates in history, posting a 5-3 record, while the junior varsity, composed mainly of freshmen who had never played the game before this year, registered its first win and first tie in history.

The varsity basketball team won its third straight Badger Lutheran Conference championship and second place in the Wisconsin Lutheran Invitational Basketball Tournament enroute to a 17-6 record.

The junior varsity cagers compiled a 16-1 log, stretching their string of perfect BLC jayvee title seasons to three. The Fox Kits, FVL's freshmen, ran up a 9-1 mark, making it 19-1 for the combined past two seasons.

The track team recorded its best season with a 7-2 dual meet won-loss total. As in football, the largest number of athletes in history turned out for the sport.

The judo squad officially became FVL's fourth sport this year, and thus Lutheran High became the first high school in the state to award letters in the sport.

Several members of the team earned their green belts, while the second FVL Judo Tournament was held in March and the squad was the only one representing a high school at the state AAU meet in December.

Dick Stuart Slams Two Home Runs as Boston Wins Pair

Dean Chance Blanks Yankees; Buster Narum Shuts Out Chisox

BY MURRAY CHASS

Dick Stuart, whose glove sometimes beats Boston, now has come close to whipping the Red Sox with his bat.

The Boston slugger's bat put the Kansas City ahead with a home run in the first game of a doubleheader Sunday.

Then Stuart clouted a grand slam off Moe Drabowsky in the eighth inning broke a 2-2 tie. It was his first home since April 28 when he also smashed a grand slam. He also connected with a man aboard in the fourth inning of the nightcap, giving him four this season.

Stuart's average is only .230, but he has 28 runs batted in, third best in the American League. Last year he hit 42 homers and drove in 118 runs.

Following the double victory Sunday, Stuart talked about his home runs, which besides money, are his favorite subject.

"That's my second grand slam off Drabowsky. I hit one off him my second day in the big leagues in 1958 when I was with the Pirates. It's my fifth home run off him altogether," said Stuart, whose recollection of his records, unlike his fielding, is flawless.

Of five scheduled doubleheaders in the AL, Baltimore had the only other sweep, beating Minnesota 2-0 and 7-4. Chicago downed Washington, then lost 3-0 while New York defeated Los Angeles 8-5 after dropping a 3-0 decision. Detroit got by Cleveland 7-5. Rain washed out the second game.

Souchak Wins At Memphis

Scores 1-Stroke Win Over Casper And Jacobs

MEMPHIS (AP)—When Mike Souchak enters a golf tournament he figures to win if he attacks the par 3 holes and does well.

The former Duke football player fired a 69 Sunday and slipped past three other golfers for a one-stroke victory in the $50,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament with a 10-under-par 270 total.

Souchak noted his four rounds over the Colonial Country Club course and his performances on the par 5 holes, 13, 16 and 18. He birdied each of those four holes except No. 16 the first round.

"I think that's what it takes to win—attack the par 5s, do well and take home first place money."

Cards Birdie

Souchak clinched his victory, and $7,500, with a birdie putt on the final hole from four feet after an exploding sand shot hit only three inches from the pin and rolled past.

Billy Casper and Tommy Jacobs came in second with 271. Six golfers—Bob Rosburg, Art Wall Jr., Mason Rudolph, Gene Littler, Doug Sanders and Gay Brewer—were tied for fourth with 272.

Going into the 18th hole, Littler, Casper and Jacobs were tied with Souchak with nine under par. Each had birdies on the par 5 No. 16 and pars on the short 17th hole. Littler bogied 18 after having fairway trouble and Jacobs and Casper barely missed long birdie putts.

Golfdom's perennial tournament favorites, Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, were far back in the pack. Nicklaus fired a second straight 66 and had a 274 Palmer had a final round 69 for 276.

Sgt. Alvin York's Bleeding Stopped

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Medal of Honor winner Sgt. Alvin York was listed in very satisfactory condition today at Veterans Hospital, where he was admitted Friday for internal hemorrhaging.

Doctors stopped the bleeding several hours after the 76-year-old World War I hero was rushed here by ambulance but said he must remain in the hospital several days.

York lives on a mountain farm at Pall Mall, Tenn., about 140 miles northeast of here. He has been bed-ridden about 10 years and has been in and out of hospital a number of times.

the cushion he needed with a three-run uprising after they won an argument with the umpire in the second inning. The dispute also led to the ejection of Ernie Broglio, the Cards' starting pitcher, and St. Louis coach Vern Benson.

With Torre on second and Carby on first, Frank Bolling hit a sharp grounder to third baseman Ken Boyer, who tried for a force out on the lead runner. Boyer had trouble finding the handle on the ball as he lunged toward third, but umpire Tony Venzon ruled Torre out. The Braves protested and Venzon, after checking with second base umpire Doug Harvey, changed his decision, ruling Torre safe.

Broglio Ejected

The Cardinals then swarmed around the umpires arguing against reversal of the original call. Broglio finally was ejected for throwing his glove more than 25 feet into the air and Benson got the thumb for arguing too strenuously.

When play was resumed, Menke singled across a run and Alou drove in two more with a hit through the middle.

The Braves were idle today before opening a three-game series with the Houston Colts Tuesday night.

Paschal Wins 600-Mile Race

'Fireball' Roberts Listed as Critical Following Crash

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Veteran Jim Paschal finally struck it rich Sunday, winning a wreck-marred World 600-mile stock car race which left Glenn (Fireball) Roberts hospitalized with critical burns.

Roberts, biggest career money winner in NASCAR history, remained in critical condition early today. He had third-degree burns over most of his body.

Paschal, 38 and a 17-year racing veteran, breezed to his first major victory and $24,555 after the other contenders were eliminated by wrecks or mechanical difficulties.

His triumph in a 1964 Plymouth gave car-owner Lee Petty a 1-2 sweep in the race. Petty's

Clark Wins Dutch Grand Prix

Field Completed for Indianapolis '500'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—If Scot Jimmie Clark dominates the 48th Indianapolis 500-mile Auto Race Saturday as he did the 10-mile time trials, he will start lapping the field about 15 minutes after the start.

While Clark was winning the Dutch Grand Prix Sunday in a campaign to repeat as world road racing champion, the fourth and final session of qualifications was run off at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway's 2.4-mile oval. It mostly was an exercise in futility.

There were four positions open in the 33-car Memorial Day field and after 21 drivers presented themselves at the starting line, the four best per-won, Richard, finished second, four laps back, after blowing a tire and burning ignition wires.

Richard, winner of this year's Daytona 500, earned $11,460. Roberts, of Daytona Beach, Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., and Ned Jarrett of Camden, S.C., were involved in the worst of several wrecks that sidelined other top names such as Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach.

Misfortune befell Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., who was seeking his seventh major victory in a row this season. He led 63 laps but was forced to make 11 pit stops and wound up fourth behind Mercury-driving Rex White of Spartanburg, S.C.

Ralph Boston Smashes Own American Mark

Burleson Nips Tom O'Hara in California Relays

MODESTO, Calif. (AP)—Ralph Boston serves notice he wants the world broad jump record back from Russia's Igor Tar - Ovanesyan this Olympic year.

In the 32nd renewal of the California Relays Saturday night, Boston smashed his own American mark and came within three-quarters of an inch of taking back the world mark.

The former Tennessee A&I star now competing for the Southern California Striders leaped 27 feet 2 1/4 inches with a six-jump average of 26 feet 8 1/4 inches — the average equaling the best jump every by Jesse Owens.

Boston, named the outstanding athlete in the meet, wasn't overjoyed as he explained, "I fell short of what I expected to do. I was aiming to get my world record back."

Boston was the first man ever to jump 27 feet and held the world record at 27-1 3/4 until the Russian went 27-3 1/4. However, Ter-Ovanesyan never has beaten the U.S. Olympic champion in head and head competition.

The wind was only 1.6 miles per hour when Boston made his American record leap on his third jump. His series was: 26-6, 26-6 1/4, 27-2 1/4, 26-5 1/4, 26-8 1/4 and 26-8.

Burleson Rallies

The mile run lived up to expectations as a tremendous duel between America's two premier runners at the distance with Dyrrol Burleson just catching Tom O'Hara to win in 4:00.2. The Oregonian trailed by five yards after the final turn but sprinted in to win his fifth triumph in as many races with the Loyola of Chicago star who set an indoor record last winter in ew York. O'Hara was timed in 4:00.3.

Jean Havlish Wins Pair of WIBC Crowns

Allgauer, of Chicago, Lead Division One Teams

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A trim brunette secretary from neighboring St. Paul claimed two championships Sunday night as the 44th Women's International Bowling Congress Tournament ended after its 45-day run.

Jean Havlish, 28, gave Minnesota its first two WIBC crowns. She topped the division one singles with a 680, good for $500, and paced the all events with 1,980, paying another $300. The all event total was an all-time record and the 680 in singles was the sixth highest ever.

The tourney was the largest and richest in the WIBC's 47-year history. More than 25,000 individuals and 5,060 teams competed for prize money totaling $248,924.

Fifth Touring

Miss Havlish, a secretary in the Minnesota education department, came into her fifth WIBC tourney with an average of about 180. She averaged 220 for her nine tourney games, totaled 624 in the team event and 666 in the doubles.

The Allgauer of Chicago led Joy Abel of Chicago, with 2,286, taking $1,500 with the trophy. Tenpin Coliseum, Alexandria, Va., followed with 2,900 and Gossard Girls, Chicago, with 2,899. In the doubles were Shirley Garms and Grace Werkmeister, Chicago, who won $800 Morristown, N.J., 103 pins behind Miss Havlish with 1,877. Dorothy Aldred and Alice Ditt-Third-place Joy Abel, Chicago, had 1,866.

Additional Correctional Units Needed

Population Boom Increases Need for Detention Centers

Urgency of the space needs at the State Building Commission was indicated by the fact that the State Welfare Department volunteered to defer one of the adult prisoner forestry camps planned for construction a year in order to release funds for the juvenile housing.

Rate Doubles

But during that period, the rate of admissions has more than doubled, Sanger Powers, state corrections chief, reported the building commission.

Some members of the commission expressed concern about the fiscal implications of a case load growth in the juvenile corrections program.

Sen. Chester Dempsey, observing that "we cannot continue to build and build and build," said the state must look out some means of providing custody and training for child offenders in their home communities because of the

Favored Son to Be Honored by New Orleans

DeLesseps Morrison Killed in Crash of Plane in Mountains

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—This historic city paused in sorrow today to pay tribute to deLesseps S. Morrison, who achieved success in politics, diplomacy and soldiering.

His body, broken in a plane crash in Mexico's Tamaulipas Mountains last Friday, will lie in state for 24 hours in his old office in Gallier Hall—the former city hall where Morrison had served many of his 15 years as mayor.

Morrison, 52, his youngest son John Randolph, 7, and five other persons perished in the crash during a blinding rainstorm.

Military Honors

An Air Force Albatross landed at nearby Alvin Callendar Naval Air Station Sunday with the flag-draped coffins of the seven victims.

Morrison, who resigned a year ago as U.S. ambassador to the Organization of American States to make his third try for governor, will be buried with full military honors. He was a major general in the U.S. Army Reserve.

Others killed were Ovide J. Cenac, 59, of Houma, president of a towing company; Raleigh Pellegrin, 47, of Montegut, a Cenac employee; Hugh Ward, the pilot, Brownsville, Tex.; and Carolyn Vandergrift, 35, and her 7-year-old son, Christopher, who recently had moved from Washington, D.C., to West Palm Beach, Fla.

Left New Orleans Friday

In West Palm Beach, Margaret Price said Mrs. Vandergrift, her daughter, and Morrison were engaged to be married. Mrs. Vandergrift was divorced. Morrison's wife died in 1956.

The caskets of Morrison and his son will be taken to St. Louis Cathedral Tuesday for a high Requiem Mass.

The Morrison party left New Orleans Friday to fly to the Rancho Santa Clara near Tampico, Mexico, on a combination business-pleasure trip. Their plane took off shortly after 5 p.m. Friday from Matamoros, Mexico, across the border from Brownsville, Tex.

A search party found the wreckage the next day in remote terrain 45 miles southeast of Ciudad Victoria, the capital of the Mexican state of Tamaulipas. There were no survivors.

Church Fire Claims Its Seventh Victim

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A seventh victim died today of burns suffered in a fire that swept the parish hall of All Hallows Catholic Church during a Samoan fire dance Saturday night.

The victims were members of the city's Samoan community. Seventy-five other persons were badly burned and 12 were said to be still in critical condition today.

One of the three Samoan fire dancers who were performing when the fire broke out said a misunderstanding triggered the blaze and ensuing panic.

Fire Dance

David Quiane, for five years a night club fire dancer, told newsmen he intended to borrow a book of matches to light the gasoline-soaked sword he whirled in his act.

A drummer in the band, he said, "whipped out a lighter and set the sword on fire," and a bowl of gasoline ignited with a roar.

Once the blaze had begun an unidentified man sprayed water into the gasoline, witnesses said. The blaze flared up. Members of the Samoan Catholic Benevolent Society rushed for a front exit.

William Murray, fire chief, said there would have been no disaster if the group hadn't panicked. Fleeing men and women, he said, clawed at one another savagely.

Charles R. Brook, 60, a member of the All Hallows Dads' Club, said he grabbed a fire hose from the wall. He, another man and a youth, he said, took the hose to within 15 feet of the fire, when "whoosh!—all hell broke loose."

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

MOON FLIGHT: The United States has a better than 50-50 chance of landing a man on the moon by 1970, Dr. Werner von Braun, director of the Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., said today.

In a copyright interview in U.S. News and World Report, Von Braun said: "We cannot be absolutely certain, because any critical setback may, of course, still deny us success in time. But I would say, if you asked me for a personal opinion, that we have a better than 50 percent chance of being on the moon before the decade is out."

Peking Rejects U.S. Proposal For U.N. Patrol

Aggressors Must Leave S. Viet Nam, Broadcast Says

BY JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China today called U.S. proposals for guarding the South Viet Nam-Cambodia border with United Nations patrols a plot to expand American aggression in Indochina.

"U.S. aggressors must get out of South Viet Nam; they must get out of Indochina," a Peking radio broadcast quoted a Peking People's Daily editorial as saying.

Replying to U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson's declaration May 21 before the U.N. Security Council, the Chinese said: "China absolutely cannot allow the United Nations to be drawn into the situation in Indochina."

The Red Chinese rejection was spelled out in an editorial by "Commentator," an otherwise unidentified but high-ranking official.

Stevenson proposed that the Security Council request Cambodia and South Viet Nam to establish a military force to patrol the frontier which South Vietnamese troops have crossed in recent weeks in pursuit of Communist Viet Cong units. He said this bilateral force should be augmented by, and possibly commanded by, U.N. observers.

Alternatively, he suggested formation of an all-U.N. force to which the United States would be willing to contribute.

U.S. advisers contend the Communist Viet Cong openly use Cambodia as sanctuary before and after raids on South Viet Nam.

The editorial broadcast by Peking radio said: "These proposals by Stevenson are becoming increasingly blatant. They are designed to draw the United Nations, which is under U.S. control, into territories close to South Viet Nam and Cambodia and thus to draw the U.N. into the contaminated South Vietnamese war."

to the Communists "in every corner of the world."

Writing for the Reader's Digest, Lausche called Secretary of State Dean Rusk a sincere, devoted diplomat but said the State Department has within its ranks "long-entrenched and frequently misguided men whose views too often account for our United States is losing ground unsuccessful policies."

Spanish Prince Juan Wins Franco's Favor

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco showed marked favor for Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon Sunday, apparently rebuffing the aspiration of Prince Carlos Hugo of Bourbon-Parma to occupy the Spanish throne.

Francisco gave the grandson of Spain's last king second place on the reviewing stand, beside the army minister, during an annual military parade. The prince's wife, Princess Sophie of Greece, sat at Mrs. Franco's right in her box.

Nothing could stop the mob dashing in frenzy for the exits, still closed because of the sudden end of the game.

Bodies Crushed

Body upon body was crushed and stomped in the dash to escape. Men, women and children died, in the stands and at the exits.

Traffic around the stadium in the center of the city was jammed for hours. Mounted police charged the crowds outside in an effort to keep order.

Hoodlums looted the pockets of some of the victims. They also snatched watches and other valuables.

Under the stadium lights, survivors and police went to the aid of the injured and tried to sort out the piles of dead. The injured were sent to hospitals in ambulances, taxis, and commandeered cars and trucks.

Police Blamed

Many persons blamed the police use of tear gas for starting the panic.

Outside the hospitals, mobs assembled, shouting denunciations of the police "Revenge," they screamed "Down with the police."

The government suspended individual liberties — a modified form of martial law — in an attempt to prevent further rioting. It also proclaimed a week of national mourning.

On the crushed chests of some of the bodies were the deep purple imprints of the curtain-like metal exit gates.

Doctors at the hospitals said most of the victims suffocated.

Their cries for help alerted lake shore residents, who summoned authorities. Searching operations were conducted under difficult conditions by Jefferson and Rock county authorities.

I hope he takes an increasingly active role in the crucial 1964 decision of our Republican party."

Civil Rights Issue

Eisenhower also stressed the "furtherance of civil rights" and "loyal support for the United Nations" in the maintenance of peace.

The former president declined again to indicate a preference among announced or unannounced candidates for the GOP nomination, saying it is "not my proper role" to name names, and "I do not intend to attempt this."

He added that the Republican nominee should be a man who "will uphold, earnestly, with dedication and conviction, the principles and traditions of our party."

Eisenhower said he has urged that Republicans from coast to coast be given a "fair chance to work their will, in careful deliberations, at the national convention — and therefore to make that convention truly representative of the party."

"I hope they will have that chance," he added, "and I earnestly hope the party will select a nominee who skillfully and wholeheartedly would apply to our problems, both domestic and foreign, those principles which I have noted here."

out fear of eavesdropping. The embassies are regarded as easier to keep free of bug-ging than diplomats' homes.

That's because embassies have a 24-hour guard, while homes are often unattended or are visited by local people who could be agents. When the security men do a face another problem: what secrets did the eavesdropper get?

Republicans Meet To Round Out Their Convention Plans

Ready to Name Temporary
And Permanent Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans gathered here today to complete arrangements for their 1964 convention and pondered whether a new statement by Dwight D. Eisenhower would influence that convention's choice of a presidential nominee.

The former president called Sunday for "responsible, forward looking Republicanism" and a candidate who would carry out that program. But he did not name any names, and he repeated that he does not intend to dictate the convention's choice of a nominee.

The convention arrangements committee's main job today was to pick a slate of officials acceptable to backers of all the major potential nominees.

French Police Seize 3 Men As Kidnapers

Madame Dassault
Not Mistreated
During Captivity

PARIS (AP) — Three men described by police as "little gangsters" are being held in the kidnapping of Mrs. Marcel Dassault, wife of a millionaire French warplane builder, who says she wasn't mistreated during 36 hours as a prisoner.

"The chief was charming with me," the 63-year-old Paris socialite said after two gendarmes stumbled onto the kidnapers' hideout Sunday. "But they were dangerous men."

Mrs. Dassault, who had belted one of the kidnapers in the stomach with her umbrella, said the men provided her with covers during a chilly night and brought her grilled steak and boiled potatoes when she complained of being hungry.

Hundreds Killed, Injured in Stadium Stampede in Peru

An Anguished Father Is Aided by a friend as they carry the body of his son who was killed Sunday in a riot at a soccer game in Lima, Peru, which resulted from a dispute which arose over a decision against the Peru team. Peru was playing Argentina in an international game when the crowd panicked.

Fatalities Estimated at 260 to 315 in Reports on Tragedy After Soccer Game

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A stampede of 45,000 spectators in a Lima sports stadium after police fired tear gas at rioting soccer fans left hundreds dead today in possibly the worst sports disaster in history.

Authorities still were unable to come up with an official count of victims in Sunday's tragedy. Lima's La Prensa said 260 bodies were counted. The newspaper Expresso said 315 were killed. Hundreds were injured.

Many blamed the tear gas for the frantic rush to the exits, and a government statement, taking note of this, declared: "It was necessary for the police to use tear gas in an attempt, however unfortunately futile, to prevent further disorder. The government is deeply concerned over the fatal results that originated in a trivial incident."

This was a reference to the fact that the riot erupted after a fan jumped from the grandstand to protest a referee's decision in the soccer game between Argentina and Peru. The teams were meeting for the right to play in the Tokyo Olympics.

The crowd had witnessed a close contest with neither side able to score in the early action.

After 15 minutes in the final period, Argentina scored the first goal. Within minutes of the final gun, the Peruvians sent the ball into the net.

The crowd roared. But the referee refused to allow the score, saying Peru had committed a foul.

Fans screamed in protest. The Peruvian players continued to play, although they also protested the decision.

Fans ran toward the referee. The clock ticked on. Only moments were left when a spectator jumped out of the lower-priced seats and raced across the grass toward the referee.

Police cornered the fan and dragged him off. Other spectators poured onto the field.

The referee called off the game. Police escorted him off the field. The players headed for the dressing rooms.

Termination of the game only excited the fans more.

They threw seat cushions.

Undersea Missile Substitute Sought

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The director of the Polaris program said today the submarine missile may be an effective weapon until the 1960s and the Navy is studying advanced underwater missile concepts as possible successors.

Rear Adm. J. J. Galantin said systems being considered are deep diving submarines made of titanium or glass which could hug the ocean bottom; missiles powered by nuclear energy or exotic fuels, and deployment of large missiles in submerged tubes anchored in the sea.

He outlined the proposals in a paper prepared for the annual meeting of the Aviation and Space Writers' Association.

Extensive Property
Damage but No
Injuries Reported

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gale force winds belted southern and central Wisconsin early Sunday, causing extensive property damage and disrupting electrical service. No injuries were reported.

The storm hit hardest in 12 counties—Clark, Richland, Vernon, Wood, Columbia, Trempealeau, Dodge, Dane, Fond du Lac, Rock, Jefferson and Waukesha.

Winds destroyed a barn and caused other damage on the Herbert Kromie farm at Arlington. A shed and other small buildings on the Burrell Erickson farm south of Portage were damaged.

Trailer, Homes Damaged

An unoccupied 50-foot trailer was twisted out of shape by winds near Randolph, Dodge County, and several houses were damaged at Beaver Dam.

James Halverson, 17, and Terry Campbell, 18, both of Janesville, were credited with saving three Milwaukee men whose boat swamped on stormy Lake Koshongong in Jefferson and Rock counties ended early Sunday when Fletcher Pinkard, 51, went out in a boat and brought the trio to shore.

Senate Debate on Civil Rights Bill Enters 12th Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate civil rights debate enters its 12th week today with leaders still trying to put across a package of amendments designed to pick up the wavering votes needed for passage.

They presented the package—prepared by Republican and Democratic civil rights forces in consultation with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—at party caucuses last week and found further tinkering is needed.

Republican senators scheduled their fourth conference on the proposed amendments today.

Their leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said he expects it to be the last.

Dirksen and assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota said they hoped the package could be submitted to the Senate this week as a substitute for the House bill now being debated.

Shoots 3 Children to Death Because 'They're Better Off in Heaven'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Robert Henry Nicolaus, 31, admitted shooting his three children to death because he thought they would be better off in heaven, sheriff's deputies reported.

"I felt I had a duty," Sheriff's Sgt. John Crow quoted Nicolaus after the Sacramento man's arrest Sunday.

The state division of highways analyst was booked into Sacramento County jail for investigation of murder.

Deputies said Nicolaus told them he shot Roberta, 7, Donald, 5, and Heidi, 2, in the trunk of his car where "they were looking for a key he told them he had lost."

The bodies were found in the car, parked in North Sacramento.

The two older children were by a former marriage. The youngest was by his present wife.

County in Virginia Told to Integrate Schools by Fall

U. S. Supreme Court Sets
Next September as Deadline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Virginia "with directions to enforce a decree which will guarantee that these petitioners (Negro students) will get the kind of education that is given in the state's public schools."

Black added that, "If it becomes necessary to add new parties" to the lengthy litigation to accomplish the purpose, ordered today, the federal court in Virginia "is free to do so."

The U.S. District Court in Virginia, Black said, has power to order the public schools opened if such an order is "required to assure these petitioners (Negro students) that their constitutional rights will no longer be denied them."

"The time for mere 'deliberate speed' has run out, and that phrase can no longer justify denying these Prince Edward County school children their well-earned constitutional rights to an education equal to that afforded other parts of Virginia," Black stated.

Black said the case would go back to U.S. District Court in Virginia.

Disagree on Attorney

Justices Tom C. Clark and John M. Harlan noted they agreed with the reasoning in Black's opinion, but disagreed with the holding that federal courts are empowered to order re-opening of the county schools.

Black said the case would go back to U.S. District Court in Virginia.

Auto accidents claimed at least seven lives in Wisconsin during the weekend, boosting the state's 1964 highway toll to 355, compared with 272 on this date a year ago.

Arnold Bahler, 69, of Milwaukee, died Sunday of injuries suffered Friday night when struck by a car.

James C. Fox, 23, of Milwaukee, died in a Racine hospital Sunday of injuries sustained in a one-car crash early Friday on Interstate 94 in Racine County.

Two Rib Lake youths, Richard Tusty, 17, and Terry Strebig, 16, were found dead under their overturned car in Taylor County early Saturday. Skid marks indicated the car slid some 130 feet, climbed an embankment, returned to the road and overturned.

Victims listed earlier included Orville Kosharek, 47, of rural Boyceville; Henry Yanna, 45, of Boscobel; Marlene Nagy, 16, of South Milwaukee; and Cruz L. Vallin Jr., 26, of Racine.

Listening Devices Everywhere

U. S. Sleuths Kept Busy Overseas Hunting for 'Bugs' in Embassies

BY LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. sleuths overseas have discovered that fireplaces can have eavesdroppers.

One such fireplace was in the office at the residence of the American ambassador in Prague. Late last year State Department security men found a tiny radio hidden in the framework.

170 Found in 15 Years

The midget transmitter, which could beam conversations in the room to eavesdroppers outside the ambassador's home, was described today as the most sophisticated device yet uncovered in a continuing check on attempts to spy against U.S. envoys abroad.

Over the past 15 years some 170 hidden electronic snoopers have been ferreted out of offices and homes of American officials in foreign lands, mostly behind the Iron Curtain.

The bugging is still going on and so are searches by specially trained State Department security men. Their biggest find announced last week, was 40 latest advances in eavesdropping technology.

Armed with modern detecting equipment, the overseas investigators travel out of Frankfurt, Beirut and Tokyo headquarters to "sweep" official quarters in the more than 100 countries where the U.S. government has buildings. If Congress votes the money, they will set up another headquarters in Africa.

Even with the stepped-up program, the security men cannot be 100 per cent sure they have uncovered all the spy devices. It is a standard rule for U.S. diplomats, especially in Communist countries, to assume unfriendly ears are trying to listen in.

Just turning on a water faucet or blowing a hi-fi set is not enough to offset a secret listener.

Most Political Interest Centered on California's Primary Slated for June 2

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's strength among Florida Republicans will be tested Tuesday in a primary that highlights this week's political schedule.

However, much of the political interest is on a race that won't be decided until June 2: The Arizona senator's battle with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for California's 86 Republican convention votes.

Other events this week include Tuesday's runoff primary in Oklahoma and Saturday's pri-

Judge Retains Jurisdiction Over Youth

Held for Shooting Parents May 16 At Farm Home

JEFFERSON (AP)—Jefferson County Judge Charles E. Kading decided today to retain juvenile jurisdiction over Gerald Krueger, 16-year-old rural Waterloo youth accused of fatally shooting his parents May 16.

Kading said the youth's constitutional rights had been invaded and held that the waiving of jurisdiction to permit prosecution as an adult would not be in the best interest of Krueger or the public.

Joey Bishop Emcee for TV Awards

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Comedian Joey Bishop, who has emceed bar mitzvahs, Italian weddings, and Ed Sullivan testimonials, will officiate tonight at his first revolution—the 18th annual Emmy Awards.

The show will be telecast over NBC-TV — 10-11:30 p.m., EDT. Both CBS-TV and ABC-TV have boycotted it officially.

CBS and ABC charged that too much bloc voting influenced selection of winners. A CBS statement accused the National Broadcasting Co. of buying television Academy memberships for employees.

An NBC executive, however, countered that all networks pay for employee memberships, either directly or indirectly.

Bishop, whose show was recently dropped by NBC and picked up by CBS, will emcee at the Hollywood Palladium E. G. ("The Defenders") Marshall, another CBS star, will officiate on the New York end of the show.

Baptists End Conclave With World Message

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—North American Baptists ended an unprecedented conclave here with a "message to the world" outlining the beliefs of their members.

The three-day 150th anniversary jubilee, which brought together for the first time representatives of the seven largest Baptist groups in North America, ended Sunday after an address by evangelist Billy Graham, who called for a religious revival to obtain equal rights for all Americans.

The Baptists stood "as an affirmation of our belief" in approving the message, drafted by key leaders from each body.

Areas covered included salvation, religious liberty and freedom, the importance of the individual, Christian love for all men and belief in the Bible. It also included mild and brief statements on race relations.

The message did not specifically state that Baptists believe in the absolute literal truth and divine inspiration of the Bible. This is a point of controversy among Baptists.

Graham told the jubilee: "Many people today want social freedom and deserve it. They are marching for it, picketing for it, but they will not get it in this decade or the next unless we have a religious revival and convert the people to Jesus Christ."

Assured Votes

Either way the senator is assured a good bloc of votes. He also is expected to pick up Mississippi's 13 votes at that state's GOP convention.

At the start of the week, The Associated Press survey of first ballot votes showed this lineup:

William W. Scranton	70
Henry Cabot Lodge	44
Nelson W. Rockefeller	40
Margaret Chase Smith	15
Richard M. Nixon	11
Favorite sons	102
Uncommitted	225

The Florida election also includes a Democratic gubernatorial runoff primary between Mayor Haydon Burns of Jacksonville, who led the field in the May 5 primary, and Mayor Robert King High of Miami.

Mikoyan Meeting Japan's Emperor

TOKYO (AP)—First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan of the Soviet Union was received in audience by Emperor Hirohito today. Officials of the imperial household said he was the first Russian of Cabinet rank to be received by the emperor since World War II.

Not Critical

The judge said he was not criticizing Jefferson County Sheriff Roger Reinell or Dist. Atty. Robert J. Shier for "their energetic and productive investigation" but added:

"The fact remains, however, that if this child had been afforded the protection of counsel, he would not have talked and could not have been quoted, second hand, throughout the state."

Young Krueger has been held since May 18. He was taken into custody after the bodies of Roland Krueger, 47, and his wife, Lillian, 45, were found buried on the family farm five miles east of Waterloo.

Youth Quoted

Authorities quoted the youth as saying he killed his parents because he felt they were too harsh in disciplining him. "They treated me like a baby," officers quoted him as saying.

Judge Kading heard arguments Thursday on whether the boy is a child in the eyes of the law. The district attorney asked for the waiver to try Krueger on a first degree murder charge. Jerome Schlecht, the first Russian of Cabinet rank to be received by the emperor since World War II.

Nasser Promised Loan By Russia for Second

Khrushchev Given Endorsement On Kremlin's Coexistence Idea

CAIRO (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev ended a 17-day visit to Egypt today after warming up the farewell with a promise of a $277 million loan for President Gamal Abdel Nasser's second five-year plan.

In return, Nasser gave Khrushchev a wholehearted endorsement of Soviet foreign policy, including the Kremlin's views on peaceful coexistence.

A joint communique by the two leaders planned the Egyptians squarely behind the Soviets in the struggle between Peking and Moscow for influence in Africa's new nations.

Cheering workers, given a half holiday, jammed the airport for Khrushchev's departure, and upwards of 2,000 troops and security men were on hand. Nasser gave his guest a warm embrace. A 21-gun salute boomed out as the Soviet leader waved before entering his airliner.

Departure Delayed

Khrushchev's departure was delayed an hour and a half, but the reason was not announced.

The joint communique was made public after a final banquet Sunday night in the gardens of former King Farouk's luxurious Kubbah Palace.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union had decided to help the United Arab Republic with its

Both leaders denounced "attempts to torpedo the Geneva agreements of 1962 with regard to Laos," but they did not say whether they thought the United States or Communist China was responsible for the crisis in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Nasser endorsed the Soviet Union's bid to attend the coming meeting of Asian-African states as an Asian power. Red China says the Soviet Union is predominantly a European power and should be barred.

Critical Time In California Campaigning

Rockefeller and Goldwater in Clash June 2

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Campaigning in the pivotal California primary goes into its final week today with Republican presidential aspirants battling in opposite ends of the state.

The presidential hopes of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater clash June 2. The plum: 86 votes at the Republican National Convention.

Weak Areas

The candidates each campaigned today in an area where they are weakest — Goldwater in the north and Rockefeller in the south.

Goldwater flew to Redding Sunday night and planned to make several appearances today in the northern end of the Sacramento Valley.

Rockefeller, riding a wave generated by his Oregon primary victory, launched a statewide drive in San Diego today. He will concentrate his efforts in vote-heavy Southern California, a conservative stronghold.

Draft Scranton

The formation in California of a committee to draft Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton was announced over the weekend. It was indirectly pro-Rockefeller.

Rockefeller's campaign tour but a detour when his scheduled appearance tonight before an Elks Lodge in Long Beach was canceled. Ross McKelvie, exalted ruler of the Long Beach Elks Lodge 888, said the cancellation order came from top-ranking national officials of the organization.

Fay Lewis of Whittier, Calif., a former grand exalted ruler, said the Elks' constitution did not allow political or religious speakers.

PTA President Urges Stand on Civil Rights

CHICAGO (AP)—The national cause of local laws or feelings, president of the PTA said today, is fast running out for "a bers."

just solution to the injustices, inequalities and deprivations suffered by some children because of their race or color."

Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins told the annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, "our great organization cannot stand on the sidelines and refuse to be involved. The PTA cannot be a silent spectator."

Mrs. Jenkins added in an interview that she fully expects a resolution calling for a strong PTA stand on segregation to be offered to the convention for a vote on Wednesday.

National Congress

She said however that the time is not yet ripe for the national congress to merge with the National Congress of Colored Parents and Teachers, which has 300,000 members in 14 states.

Such a merger, Mrs. Jenkins said, would deprive millions of Negro children in the south of PTA services and thus do more harm than good. She said this view is shared by Mrs. Jerome Z. Morris, Montgomery, Ala., president of the Negro group.

"These people are doing such fine work," Mrs. Jenkins said, "but there are many places in the South where they cannot, be-

Mrs. Jenkins said that as the schools in the South are integrated, the PTAs are integrated, just as they are in the rest of the nation. There were formerly 27 states with separate Negro PTA organizations. This number has been cut to 14, and Mrs. Jenkins said in a very short time there will be only 11 PTA Objectives.

In her prepared keynote address today, Mrs. Jenkins said the objectives of the PTA "commit us to caring for all the children, regardless of their race, color, creed or national origin, and regardless of the social or economic status of their parents."

She also said, "If there is a school that you would not send your own child to, then that school is not good enough for other children."

About 2,500 PTA members from the 50 states are attending the 68th annual convention which ends Wednesday.

Cite Bridge Survey As Cost Saving for Valley Planning Unit

State Highway Commission To Conduct Traffic Count

BY GERALD W. ODOM
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MENASHA — Eugene Franchett, planning director for the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission Saturday said the proposed bridge traffic survey scheduled for June 2 by the Wisconsin State Highway Commission is going to save Fox Valley residents thousands of dollars, not only in the cost of the survey itself but in future planning.

Franchett said that several thousand dollars would have to be spent to hire a private firm to conduct such a survey and the highway commission is doing it free.

"It will be of great assistance to us in planning our (planning commission) program and in refining the general proposals we are now working on," he said.

11 Bridges

The traffic survey will be conducted on 11 bridges in Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna and Little Chute. Its purpose is to discover the origin and destination of motorists and if there is a possibility they might get there by an easier and shorter route.

The basic purpose of the survey is to discover whether a bridge should be constructed across Little Lake Butte des Morts.

According to Franchett, the survey is going to provide the Fox Cities with much more than that.

He noted it will especially help the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission. "We are, of course, concerned with the proper development of community facilities. The survey will give us a clearer picture of the traffic patterns and our proposals for future developments will be much more sound."

Police and other municipal officials working with traffic are also expected to benefit from the survey.

Cards

During the survey, approximately 60 members of the highway department along with local volunteer workers will hand out cards to motorists to be filled in and returned with the proper information.

The cards ask the trip purpose, where the motorist is coming from and where he is going; the type of vehicle, the number of persons in the vehicle.

The cards are address and postage free.

Leroy Empey, district engineer for the State Highway Department, said it is extremely important that cards be mailed in by motorists.

He noted engineers are seeking at least 25 per cent return on cards given out.

Basis for Bridge

The importance of the survey to engineers may be overshadowed by its importance to residents — the survey could be a major factor in whether a bridge is constructed across the lake.

The survey was organized earlier this year following a hearing by the state highway commission on preliminary engineering plans for the bridge.

The survey is to determine the actual need before the next step is taken in the project.

Preliminary plans call for construction of a bridge in the vicinity of Ninth Street at Menasha, with a connection with U.S. 41 on the far side of the lake.

A system of thoroughfares and expressways connecting with U.S. 10 to the east also is included in planning as well as a second bridge near Appleton.

Appleton Police To Get Tough On Loitering

A continued crackdown on students loitering and loitering in the Appleton High School area has been promised by police who plan to start a close survey of the area today.

Nineteen students at the high school were arrested Friday afternoon and booked at the Appleton Police Station on open charges. Officials said today that all 19 of the students will face court action either in county court or juvenile court.

Three Appleton police squad cars were called to the area on W. Winnebago Street near Gillette Street after two motorcycle patrolmen signaled for help. They reported they had requested a crowd of students to move from the area, but the students would not move.

Residents in the area said that many of the students had been driving their cars up and down the street, honking horns and "hollering," before the police arrived.

Police said they ordered many of the youths to get into squad cars and to go with them to police headquarters. Some of the students left at that time, but others remained on the lawns. One student had to be bodily carried to the squad car by two policemen.

Juvenile Walters Expected

At the station, the youths were interviewed and then released to return to school. Juvenile waivers are expected on at least 12 of the students. Some of the students are above 18 years of age and will not need waivers.

GOP Chairman Tongue-Lashed At Milwaukee

Talbot Peterson Bars Reporters From Room During Friday Parley

BY DICK LYNES
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MILWAUKEE — Wisconsin's district and county Republican chairmen were given a tongue-lashing Friday night at the annual county chairman's dinner in the Hotel Schroeder.

An indication of the type of business to be discussed came at the start of the 8 p.m. dinner when Talbot Peterson, Appleton, state Republican chairman, barred reporters from the meeting.

Under past state chairmen in previous years, the meetings had always been open to the press.

However, county chairmen who attended the meeting revealed that they received their tongue-lashing for work done in two areas — fund raising plans and campaign public relations tactics.

Donald MacRae, Eau Claire, chairman of the county chairman's organization chastised the group for what one observer called "the poor public relations image put forward by the state GOP." He said the way the state organization handles publicity for candidates and campaign issues "makes us look like amateurs compared to the pros (Democrats) that we're up against."

The GOP leaders heard plans for a new "community fund type campaign" to be used by the party in raising money for the party's campaign chest.

The party chieftans heard that since dues aren't collected in each county but financial quotas have been high nevertheless, they should go about fund raising in a different manner.

The new scheme, used successfully by the Sheboygan County GOP unit, will utilize a breakdown in collection divisions. Chairmen will be set up in cities and counties for raising funds in the retail, professional, union and several other areas.

Asked just what the meeting covered, one county chairman said after it ended, "we just plain caught hell."

Discontent of U. S. Teachers Shows Growth

Boycotts, Strikes Breaks Out in Various Sections

BY G. K. BODENFIELD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The mutter of teacher discontent is growing louder in the land. Utah teachers struck for two days, and are threatening to boycott the classrooms again next fall.

Teachers in East St. Louis, Ill. struck for four days until the school board met their salary demands.

Teachers in Jersey City, N. J., walked out for one day earlier this year, just as teachers in Gary, Ind., did last year. New York teachers called a one-day strike in 1961, and again in 1962. Teachers in South Bend, Ind., voted against a strike, 555-379, but the issues there are far from settled.

Urges Schools Support There is unrest in Louisville, Ky., where teachers say the community is not supporting the schools as it should.

Idaho teachers are keeping a close eye on developments in Utah, and they, too, may decide on a boycott.

All across the nation there is a growing demand by teachers for greater recognition and a more effective voice in school affairs.

Salaries are the big issue, but not the only one.

Some teachers air their demands through the state and local affiliates of the 902,000-member National Education Association.

Others have turned to the smaller, but more militant, 100,000-member American Federation of Teachers, affiliated with the AFL-CIO.

Both sides are campaigning

Outagamie Democrats' Program

Sophisticated Audience Goes to the 'Hills' With Ramblers—And Loves It

BY MARK E. OLIVA

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

"An audience of nearly 500 somewhat sophisticated music lovers were 'taken to the country' by the New Lost City Ramblers' Saturday evening, and solid applause with a double encore showed it enjoyed every minute of the 'foot-stompin' hill music and 'country corn' humor."

The concert proved the Fox Valley's best folk music exposition since blues masters Sonny Terry and Brownie McGhee appeared on the same stage at Lawrence College's Stansbury Theater in 1961.

The trio, Mike Seeger, John Cohen and Tracy Schwartz, furiously, in big city and small community alike, to have their affiliates recognized as the sole organization representing teachers in discussions with the school board.

In 12 contested elections to determine teacher representation, dating back to January, 1963, the NEA affiliates won nine, the union three.

Trying hard to stand fast against the surge of teacher demands are the nation's school boards, the managing directors of American public education.

demonstrated the various types of country music—Appalachian Mountain ballads, Bluegrass, A. P. Carter family songs—and told with each style how it developed and where it came from.

The Ramblers' instrumental versatility left most of the audience a little awe-struck. Seeger, Cohen and Schwartz each took turns on the fiddle, banjo and guitar. The group also made frequent use of a host of other instruments — mandolin, autoharp, mouth harp, even ordinary kitchen spoons.

Highlights of the evening's program came on solo performances. One of the most outstanding numbers was Seeger's interpretation of the Gantt family song, "When First Unto This Country," self-accompanied on the beautiful autoharp.

Cohen took the spotlight with a song filled with simple "country corn" humor, "Talking Hard Luck Blues." Schwarz stepped in a different direction with his lead solo. Singing in the modern Bluegrass vein, he used a strong banjo to accompany a driving version of "Pretty Polly."

Educational Program The Ramblers added a quality to their concert found in few performances. They made the program as educational as it was entertaining. In the current renaissance of folk music, many branches of folk are being bypassed, both from international annals and our own American heritage.

Country music of Appalachia often has been discarded as "hillbilly." The Ramblers proved beyond doubt that their brand of music is just as much folk song as "John Henry," and they left the audience with the same realization and a fairly thorough understanding of how the music came to be.

The Outagamie County Democratic Party deserves congratulations for undertaking sponsorship of the program. It filled a noticeable void in Fox Valley fine arts music circles created when Lawrence's SEC Special Projects Committee switched the format of its spring and fall concerts from folk song to popular music.

'Eisenhower' to Arrive At Railroad Museum For Memorial Day

The Dwight D. Eisenhower, the war - famed locomotive given to the United States by England, will arrive at the National Railroad Museum in Green Bay on Memorial Day.

A committee headed by Ross Quatsee announced today that the museum program for the arrival of its most prized exhibit will coincide with the celebration of Memorial Day.

Quatsee said the Memorial Day arrival of the Eisenhower is particularly appropriate because not only has the engine gained most of its fame from its wartime service, but the man for whom it is named, Dwight D. Eisenhower, first came into international prominence as commander in chief of the European theatre during World War II.

The locomotive was delivered to Railroad Museum Board Chairman Harold Fuller in Southampton, England, last month. Special delegations from the British and United States governments greeted the engine as it arrived in New York City.

Since that time the engine has been on tour from the East Coast to its final destination at Green Bay. The Dwight D. Eisenhower will become a permanent part of the rapidly growing national Railroad Museum at Green Bay.

Was Stevenson Talking to Himself?

At the time of the Bay of Pigs disaster, United States Ambassador to the United Nations Adlai Stevenson denied emphatically that the United States government had any knowledge of the attempted invasion by Cuban exiles. It turned out that no one in Washington had bothered to let Mr. Stevenson know what was afoot. We wonder today just how much in touch the ambassador is with the White House and the Departments of State and Defense regarding the troubles in Southeast Asia.

Stevenson was in Europe when things went from bad to worse in Laos and Viet Nam and he hurried back to the U.N. headquarters in New York. Sternly he warned the General Assembly that "the United States cannot stand by while Southeast Asia is overrun by armed aggression. As long as the peoples of that area are determined to preserve their own independence, and ask for our help in preserving it, we will extend it . . . and if anyone has the illusion that my government will abandon the people of Viet Nam—or that we shall weary of the burden of support that we are rendering to these people—it can only be due to ignorance of the determination and stamina of the American people."

Ambassador Stevenson almost sounded as if he were trying to convince himself rather than the Soviet Union.

Secretary McNamara speaks about our "advisors" in Viet Nam. The Department of State implies that we will use measures short of war to try to halt Red invasions. But what measures short of war will do so? And which groups are we going to support in their determination not to be overrun?

Secretary McNamara has been charging that it has been Congressional cuts in foreign aid which has led to American failures in Viet Nam. But it has been the Democratic administrations and the Democratic advisors who have complained that less military and more economic aid should be sent. And the inadequacy of the planes Americans have been flying in Viet Nam are not due to foreign aid cuts.

There appears to be the same sort of split in the Johnson administration that so seriously handicapped President Kennedy's foreign policy in the early days of his regime. But this time such proponents of a firm approach as expressed by Ambassador Stevenson are on the other team.

The PSC Situation

The insecurity and the uncertainty and the generally cloudy atmosphere in some of the principal regulatory policy-making agencies in the state government was never better illuminated than in the public announcement of two of the state Public Service commissioners that they could not agree on the eligibility of a colleague for another assignment in this critical and sensitive department.

Chairman Leonard Bessman and Commissioner David Adamany thereupon dropped the idea of hiring an executive director for the commission which they had concluded only a few months earlier they should have for most effective and economical performance.

The candidate for the job who had the support of one of the Democratic members and was opposed by the other was Arthur Padrut, a Republican hold-over commissioner who remains at his desk only through the circumstance that the Republican state senate has declined to permit Gov. Reynolds to replace him with a Democrat.

One may wonder about the effectiveness of this important commission's work and the meaning of the policy decisions it is daily producing, given the tenuous position of all of its members.

Mr. Bessman is now the only member of the group whose tenure is clear. He was appointed and confirmed five years ago. But his term will expire during the next year, after the next gubernatorial election. As we read the signs, a Republican may

And once again we must question why it is all right for Americans to fight Communists in Asia but not in Cuba.

Ambassador Stevenson has some suggestions for trying to halt the fracas that was the reason for the discussion in the General Assembly. He recommends that Viet Nam and Cambodia forces move to their border to patrol it and be sure that it is not violated. He also suggests United Nations observers in the area presumably to keep the Cambodian and Vietnamese troops from fighting each other. And he also suggests a United Nations force in the area although he concedes that this would be more expensive.

A United Nations force in Southeast Asia just might be the answer. The United States would have to bear the brunt of the cost of course but we are doing that anyway. But there are some serious hurdles to get over first. For instance the Communist leader in Laos, Prince Souvanna, has offered peace terms to his half-brother, Prince Souvanna Phouma, who heads the neutralist faction, if the right wing insurgents who took over the government some weeks ago are punished. But how is the United States to determine which group — in Stevenson's words — is "determined to preserve their own independence" and thereby qualify for our assistance?

Meanwhile Walter Lippmann, who had long decried the presence of our troops in Viet Nam or any American effort to fight a land war in Asia, writes that France and the United States have the same ideas in mind concerning Asia but mustn't agree in public. He also says that "when" United States troops are withdrawn from Viet Nam, we should maintain strong sea and air units in the area to discourage more Red aggression. But quite obviously our warships steaming around in the Pacific and our jet planes watching Red troop movements are not going to deter anything if the enemy knows they are just for show.

We do not want to fight a land war in the Asian jungles. But our government has managed to get itself out on so many limbs that we may be committed to just that. If we are not going to attack bases in the north or halt the flow of Communist aid across the Cambodian and Laotian borders, then we should get out of Viet Nam whatever Ambassador Stevenson has to say about "illusions."

Bobby Kennedy Plans Leadership Role in 'Revolution of Youth'

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

Attorney General Robert Kennedy has made his first far-reaching political commitment since the assassination of his brother.

He has decided to go after the leadership of what is known in U.S. intelligence quarters as "the revolution of youth" that is flaring excitedly throughout the world.

Where this decision will carry the 38-year-old Kennedy is conjectural.

While no decision has been made on the political route to be followed to reach this objective, already young Kennedy has begun to align himself and his political future with the "revolutionary" aims of the youthful leaders of Africa, Asia, and Latin America, who represent a wide range of ideologies.

This highly controversial commitment will be highlighted by Kennedy in a series of June commencement addresses and in summer meetings with young officials from undeveloped countries and civil rights groups.

According to Justice Department aides, the young Attorney General's position will follow that outlined in a little-publicized speech delivered in Toronto, Canada, in which he urged support for these youthful revolutionary leaders, as follows:

"We must recognize that the young in many areas of the world today are in the midst of a revolution against the status quo. Their anger is turned on the system which has allowed poverty, illiteracy and oppression to flourish for centuries.

"And we must recognize one D.C., with his dummy Reggie and was to open a long engagement with Rudy Vallee's Orchestra at the Astor Hotel in New York City later that month.

Fred Boughton, Appleton, was elected a vice president of the Wisconsin Jaycees at the organization's convention in Wausau.

The Ninth District conference of the American Legion endorsed the candidacy of H. H. Helble, Appleton, as state commander at its spring sessions in Oconto Falls.

10 YEARS AGO
Monday, May 24, 1954.

Editors of the Talisman, student newspaper at Appleton High School, were named for the next year. They were Richard Hamilton and Sandra Lemke, co-editors, Michele Mathews, feature editor, and John Mullen, sports editor.

John Mueller, Sherwood student at St. Mary High School, Menasha, was to attend Badger Boys State as the representative of the Sherwood American Legion post.

Manawa Future Farmers Association elected Frank Dreike its president for the coming year; Eddie Prill, vice president; Gordon Frig, secretary; Merlin Becker, treasurer; Vernon Mazemke, reporter; and Ronald Fuhs, sentinel.

Miss Patricia Van Rooy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Martin Van Rooy, Appleton, took part in the launching of a Navy LST at Sturgeon Bay. She accompanied Sen. and Mrs. Joseph R. McCarthy to the launching and was co-sponsor of the christening of the 344-foot ship, LST-1179.

central fact: They will prevail. They will achieve their idealistic goals, one way or another. If they have to pull governments tumbling down over their heads, they will do it. But they are going to win a share of the new world.

"This affects us: Canada and the U.S., and you and me. Our future is tied up with what they think. Like it or not, what they are going to do will have a direct impact on us.

"We, in turn, are part of their revolution. At least we should be, and I believe we must encourage them. They will not be like 'sheep without a shepherd when the snow shuts out the sky.' Someone will share their aspirations and their leadership. If this means that the future is perilous, I must admit that I think it is."

WAVE OF THE FUTURE—As proposed by Kennedy in this Canadian trial balloon, he will call for U.S. government support for such controversial revolutionary leaders as:

Kenneth Kaunda, 39, head of the Northern Rhodesian Nationalist Movement, and a known pro-Soviet Marxist; Oskar Kambona, 32, left-leaning foreign minister of Tanganyika; Jonas Savimbi, 30, Angolan exile leader, who has secret Russian ties; Sekou Toure, 38, president of Guinea

As I was driving along last Sunday, just past Kimberly, I had a flat tire. A young couple came to my aid. "Can I help you," he said, and went right to work. The spare I had did not fit so he drove me over to Kimberly to get a tire and came back and put it on. I asked what I owed him. He said nothing, but I gave him one buck anyway.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

Wisconsin No Longer A Republican State; It's Stand-Off Now

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — Gov. Reynolds, candidate for a second term in the most important political office in Wisconsin, stood up in an auditorium filled with cheerful Democratic campaign contributors and announced that Wisconsin remains a Republican state.

It is a favorite theme of the Democratic state executive, reflecting not only his family's political associations, but the stalwart Republican environment in the Fox River Valley where he grew up and lived until he came to Madison five years ago.

Probably as a shrewdly pragmatic fellow in his political style he is also aware that this is a useful theme for key-noting a rally of Democratic Party loyalists who never had it so good, as the saying goes, and who might otherwise tend to become complacent about their party's role in state politics. The troops fight better when they are worried, as the governor probably sees it.

Yet there must have been some listeners in the Milwaukee hall last week who have a smattering of Wisconsin historical background who were wondering: What is the test of the political identity of a state?

THE RECORD
Gov. Reynolds made a little bow to Sen. William Proxmire, who is running for his seat for the third time after having won it in a smashing special election victory in 1957.

He paid his respects also to Sen. Gaylord Nelson, who less than 18 months ago toppled one of the best vote getters this state has ever produced to win the coveted second Wisconsin Senate seat for the Democratic Party.

For the first time since the 1890's, Wisconsin today represents a solid image of Democratic affiliation in the U.S. Senate.

The governor could have reflected also that his own career has told something about the changed relationship of the parties. He won the key office of attorney general twice. In 1962 he managed to squeeze into the governorship in defiance of what was probably the strongest, in mechanical and financial terms, Republican drive of the last quarter of a century.

It is true, as the governor is more aware than most, that the Republicans hold effective and wary control of the State Legislature. They have a considerable majority of the courthouse elective places — largely because attrition has not yet eliminated many of the local politicians who were holding those offices when the Democrats started their reorganization a dozen years ago. Republicans have six of the 10 Wisconsin seats in the House of Representatives, and have a fair chance of extending that lead to seven this year. Republicans have four lesser state constitutional offices, albeit they won them by narrow margins two years ago.

THE POWER
But it is a fair guess that the Republican commanders would cheerfully trade some of their statistical lead in sheriffs and coroners — for the governorship and one of the U.S. Senate seats.

Some of them might be tempted if they could recapture the governorship even if they could not retain their legislative majorities. The governorship is the key office in state politics. It provides the initiative devising issues. It has vast powers in reconstituting state agencies and the courts. A good example of the patronage power was the abundance of Democratic judicial nominees circulating around the fund raising dinner at Milwaukee. Because the Democrats have had the appointing power, there is now a higher proportion of Democratic judges in the state than ever before in its history.

Considering the voting behavior of the state during a representative recent period — say 20 years — no one can be sure that it won't yet return to its Republican habit. But considering the pattern of only the last six or eight years, the parties are now evenly balanced. The plain, although possibly equivocal, conclusion is that the parties start their new contest from approximately equal positions. It is a stand-off, and the electoral decisions of next November may settle the issue of supremacy for a long time.

There Are Times Fantasy Cleans Mind

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Although normally a most sociable creature, my little girl not long ago remarked that she often preferred to walk home from school alone rather than in the company of her schoolmates.

Asked why, she said simply: "It gives me a chance to make up all kinds of things — stories and adventures and stuff like that."

The word she didn't have at her command was "fantasy." Children have a deep need to fantasize; until she made that remark, I had nearly forgotten my own childhood preoccupation with "making up things," walking along the street alone and projecting myself into marvelous situations.

After watching a Tom Mix serial in the afternoon at the movies, I would dawdle home as an intrepid cowpoke, performing feats of incredible daring and dexterity, feared and respected by the fastest guns in the West, and beloved by every beautiful woman on the frontier.

Daytime fantasy, like dream-work, performs a useful function: it enables us to relieve anxieties and find in the world of fancy a flattering role for ourselves that the reality may have denied us. If it is not excessive—not a mere substitute for life — fantasy acts as a protective bandage against the bruises of the here and the now.

Children who are over-organized, continually supervised, stimulated into "social activity," are missing out on the nourishment of solitude, the healing properties of privacy. Learning how to be alone (and wanting at times to be left alone) is also an important part of "getting along with people." Those who crave continual company are as emotionally impoverished as those who compulsively withdraw from company.

Children who are "socialized" too intensely lose the capacity for creative solitude and become quickly and easily bored when outside stimulus is lacking. I do not happen to think that either the programs or the commercials on television are in themselves "bad" for youngsters; what is bad is the increasing reliance on an outside stimulus, and a corresponding loss of the child's own inner resources.

The wellsprings of creativity are not in the everyday mind, but in the deeper layers, far below the surface, where waking and dreaming meet. All scientific, artistic, and even religious contributions come from this area; and if it remains under-developed (either from too much social activity or too much reliance on mechanized "entertainment"), then the grown person is likely to remain shallow and stereotyped.

"Making up things" in the mind is far from a useless or trivial pursuit. Consider how much of the "aimless fantasy" of a generation ago has been transformed into the concrete reality of our time.

Congress Determined To Keep Privileges

Body Has Two Rules of Conduct, One for Itself, One for Others

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is distinguished by its grim determination to yield none of its privileges. It has two rules of conduct: One for itself and a different one for other people.

It is supposed to be the symbol of democratic government, but for years some of its members, mostly liberal senators, have urged Congress to do to itself what it requires others to do.

Now it's being urged anew—as a result of the Bobby Baker case—but once again, embarrassed though it is, it will probably do nothing. This is what is meant:

Conflict of Interest Congress years ago passed a law, and later tightened and broadened it, to prevent conflict of interest among employees of the executive branch of government. Conflict of interest means mixing a government job with personal gain.

For example Men appointed by the president to high position are required to get rid of stock they hold in companies dealing with the government. But this does not apply to members of Congress or its employees.

Liberal senators have proposed Congress pass similar legislation on itself, its own code of ethics to prevent conflict of interest. Congress has ignored them.

Financial Dealings

But from last November until March the Senate Rules Committee investigated the financial dealings of Baker who, as secretary of the Democratic majority in the Senate, earned $19,000 a year.

The investigation disclosed that while he held this job he had accumulated a business fortune of about $2 million. He was called to testify but refused to. While the full Senate authorized the committee to examine the financial or business interests or activities of any Senate employee, it did not authorize the investigation of any senator who might have been involved with Baker.

Baker was a fantastic wheeler and dealer. A report prepared by the committee staff last week, while attaching no criminal blame to him, accused him of "gross improprieties" in getting his job mixed up with private business.

Harsh Report

But the report was harsh on the Senate, saying: "No amount of sophistry can relieve the Senate of the public criticism now directed against it."

The report suggested that to protect its name the Senate should write a code of ethics for itself. And it proposed the Senate and its employees be compelled to disclose publicly their outside income and its sources.

The Senate Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, opposed this suggestion as he had similar ones in the past. He said, "I have never been in favor of making 'class b' citizens out of senators."

Another proposal in the committee report ran into broad opposition in the Senate. This would forbid a senator to intercede with any government agency on behalf of a corporation doing business with the government.

Senatorial Power

In a place like the Senate, where each member has tremendous power and is jealous of it, there is enormous resistance to changing any rules or diminishing any privileges. This is truly a club, and a very exclusive one.

The disclosures in the Baker case—the spectacle of this nimble young man, so close to many senators, becoming a millionaire while working for the Senate—was a shock to all 100 members.

It raises a natural question: If all this could happen with just one young man, what else is going on there? If the senators voted to disclose their outside income, the public would have both a check and an insight.

But the Senate, shocked though it is, has been through other unpleasant moments in its long history and will probably do nothing as it sighs and waits for this storm to pass away, thinking, perhaps, in time all things pass away.

Curfew Imposed On Leopoldville After Terrorism

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—The Congolese government clamped a dusk-to-dawn curfew on Leopoldville Saturday after terrorist saboteurs bombed two Roman Catholic churches, killing a worshipper

"There will be no exceptions," declared security Police Chief Victor Nendaka. The 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew was announced by Interior Minister Joseph Mabutu.

The Congolese capital has been under martial law since October. Mabutu is one of three special commissioners appointed to rule the city.

The curfew follows a series of plastic bomb attacks, mostly aimed at the city's electric power supply.

Friday night two plastic charges exploded in a doorway of the Roman Catholic church of Christ the King just as mourners were leaving a funeral. One Congolese who was in the doorway was fatally injured by flying concrete. Several other churchgoers were slightly injured.

An hour later, another blast

Urge Faster Schooling for Bright Youths

Professor at UW Says Acceleration Should be Top Goal

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Bright children in the future should attain a baccalaureate degree by the age of 21 years and many of them at the age of 20, a University of Wisconsin educational research professor says.

Many children can enter upon their professional careers one year earlier than under the normal educational schedule, through the acceleration of instruction for pupils of high capacity in the elementary schools, Prof. Herbert Klausmeier of the University said in the Journal of Education published by the Wisconsin Education Association.

Such acceleration in the schools should be a major goal of the teaching profession in the state and the nation, he said, on the basis of experiments already conducted in some Wisconsin schools including those at Racine.

Accelerate Bright Youths

Prof. Klausmeier especially urged the acceleration of bright older children, those of a high ability, to complete the high school in less than four years. He said that such acceleration would be an economic gain for the schools, and a gain for the students.

"It is an affront to the bright older pupil and an undue burden on the teacher to force the older bright child to spend 12 years completing 12 grades, the same length of time as the many immature younger children of average ability," he said.

or chronological age than others in their classes because of the rules governing age for admission to the first grade. In the school system with an entering minimum age of five years, nine months, he noted, the median age of first graders will be about six years, three months, and the range will be from five years, nine months, to six years, nine months.

Among the chronologically older children, there will be many bright and emotionally developed children as there are children below average. Acceleration is most fruitful for them, the expert said.

He said such acceleration will be an economic gain for the schools, and a gain for the students.

Lorge Inspects Slum Region

Bear Creek Senator Conducted on Tour In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The slum conditions in Milwaukee's central city area were blamed Friday, by members of a joint State Senate-Assembly Insurance Committee for the lack of enforcement of municipal building codes.

Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek, and Assemblyman Frank Dionesopolus, D-Milwaukee, and Kyle Kenyon, R-Tomah, inspected 10 homes where insurance coverage had been cancelled.

"There is no question that some companies object to issuing insurance because of the area," said Lorge "but there is evidence of a pattern of discrimination." The area houses the majority of the city's Negro population.

Lorge said the state insurance commissioner would probably be allowed greater latitude in establishing higher rates and issuing policies to mortgage owners where fire risks are beyond normal control.

"The city should insist on tougher electrical and health inspections," said Dionesopolus. He said absentee landlords should bear the brunt of stricter inspections and code enforcement. "They are receiving sufficient rent to make improvement in these houses," he added.

FHA and VA Loans Provide Home Buyer Various Benefits

BY MARY FEELEY
Comment in Home Management

Dear Miss Feeley: Please give an inexperienced house hunter some information on broad categories of home mortgage types of mortgages. What are the differences between conventional loans, and those made through FHA and through the VA? And why is it that one often reads in "For Sale" ads: "no as FHA (Federal Housing Administration) or VA (Veterans Administration) down payment to veterans?" This sounds too simple to be taken at face value. Surely a down payment is required in buying any home. Will you straighten us out?

M. F., New York City

To start with, there are two categories of home mortgage loans—so called conventional loans, and those made through the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or the Veterans Administration (VA). The difference between the two is that the FHA and VA loans are made through the cooperation of a Federal Government agency such as the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or the Veterans Administration (VA). These loans are made through the cooperation of a Federal Government agency such as the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or the Veterans Administration (VA). These loans are made through the cooperation of a Federal Government agency such as the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or the Veterans Administration (VA).

les, commercial banks and individuals account for more than 75 per cent of all mortgage loans made to homeowners.

While there are laws and regulations applying to minimum acceptable down payments and maturities of loans, lending institutions may offer different amounts on a mortgage, at different interest rates. There's enough flexibility allowed to make each loan an individual transaction. The supply and demand of mortgage money, your credit rating and the type of home you're interested in buying will affect your individual situation.

If you're planning to buy now, you'll be interested to know that the National Association of Real Estate Boards points out there is a large amount of funds available for loans on homes, causing keen competition among lenders. Interest rates on mortgage loans can vary, depending on the individual area and the supply and demand of the mortgage money. For instance, in the Greater New York area, interest rates are currently ranging from 5 1/2 to six per cent.

Shop Around

Remember that if you make a small down payment you can't expect to get the same low interest rate offered to someone making twice that down payment on the same type of loan. Also, the longer you want to stretch out payments on the loan, the more it will cost you. So shop around in order to get the terms that are most important to you.

FHA loans are set up through the FHA and insure the lending agency against any loss of principal if you fail to meet the terms and conditions of your mortgage. In other words, you pay an "insurance fee" of one-half of one per cent, computed monthly, on the outstanding amount of the principal for the full term of your loan. This insurance protects the lender, not you. The lender can advance a higher percentage of the appraised value since the risk has been reduced. However, you actually do benefit since this insurance enables you to borrow more under FHA than would be possible under a conventional loan.

Under FHA insured loans, property is carefully inspected by an FHA appraiser, which means the buyer is often prevented from purchasing a home not really worth the value placed on it by the seller. Maximum maturity of FHA loans are for 30 years, or three fourths of the remaining working years of the home buyer, whichever is less. Interest rate is 5 1/2 per cent, plus the insurance fee of one-half of one per cent, totalling 5 3/4 per cent.

To sum up, FHA loans differ from conventional loans in the following respects; interest rates and other charges are fixed by FHA; repayment of loan is stretched over a longer period of time; FHA minimum property standards are required, and property appraised.

VA loans, under the housing benefits of the GI Bill of Rights, have made it even easier for many servicemen to buy homes, since this agency guarantees the lender—the banker, insurance company, etc.—against losses up to 60 per cent of the loan or $7,500, whichever is less.

VA also has its own appraiser inspect property before it guarantees a transaction. Another "plus" is that the borrower pays no insurance premium and the lender of the mortgage loan can be guaranteed as much as $7,500 return of his principal in case of the buyer's default. This is why arrangements can be made for a purchase "with no down payment to veterans." Uncle Sam is providing the down payment in the form of the guarantee for those who served in World War II and the Korean War.

Approximately 25 per cent of the more than 19 million eligible veterans have taken advantage of the GI home loan rights. There's still time left for some five million Korean veterans (who served after June, 1950) to enjoy these rights. Time limit is Feb. 1, 1965. The veteran makes his own arrangements for a loan through financial channels. In order to establish small monthly payments, his residential loan can be set up for a maximum of 30 years and a farm loan may run as long as 40 years.

Parents' World

3-Year-Old's Eating Problem May be in Parent's Mind

Dear Dr. Jones: We have an eating problem with our three-year-old. I can't get him to eat more than one good meal a day. He hardly touches his supper. I have tried reasoning with him, spanking, sending him to bed, and as a last resort, bribery. It's also a standing rule in our home that if he won't eat the meal I fix, he gets nothing more until the next meal. But this doesn't seem to bother him at all.

I know children go through periods of not wanting to eat, but how long do they last? My son hasn't eaten a decent supper for almost two weeks now. He does eat a good breakfast and sometimes I think that this is what keeps him going during the day.

I have a five-month-old daughter who has been a picky eater since I started her on solids. Could this have any effect on the boy?

MRS. G. M.

What are you expecting your children to eat? If you think they ought to go through a small roast elephant at every meal, you'll "see" eating problems that don't exist, and you'll eventually create real problems.

Serve your children only the size portions your M.D. tells you are reasonable for their ages and activity. Then let your children eat as much or as little as they like—without comment, frenzy, bribery, or punishment. If you want to even up their eating habits, stop serving second portions.

But it really doesn't matter; many people naturally like to fill up at one meal or another. Just cook attractive foods and make certain there aren't any between-meals snacks.

The important thing for you to start recognizing is that you have no right to tell your children how much food their stomachs want. You don't nag your husband, do you? Your son's lowered intake may continue for months, if he's going through a low-growth period. Or it may pick up overnight after he sees you aren't going to ruin his appetite by telling him how hungry he ought to be. In either case, there are other ways you can show him you love him, so stop concentrating on how much of Mom's cooking he consumes.

To receive your copy of Dr. Jones' new pamphlet, "The Facts of Life for Pre-School Children," send 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Eve Jones, c/o Appleton Post-Crescent.

Goldwater Advocates Atom Weapons for Use in Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says low-yield atomic weapons could be used to burn jungle foliage and expose Communist supply lines along South Viet Nam's border.

The Arizona senator was asked Sunday on the ABC radio and television program "Issues and Answers" how jungle trails which can't be spotted from the air should be handled in the U.S.-supported war.

In the interview, Goldwater urged the bombing with conventional weapons of bridges, roads and railroads used to bring supplies from Red China and North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam unless the Communists halted the military shipments.

GOP Convention Sidelights

Delegates From Outagamie 'Quiet' During Goldwater Demonstration

Post-Crescent News Service
MILWAUKEE—Practically all of the Outagamie County delegation to the State Republican Convention were seated and watching Saturday morning's wild demonstration for Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater in the Arena.

Only four of the Outagamie GOP joined in the "spontaneous" parade which lasted exactly 15 minutes. Two more waved Outagamie County standards from their seats high up in the Arena's west side.

Organizers of the Goldwater demonstration had planned their spectacle for two days, but were becoming worried that it wouldn't have the chance to start. Rumors were going around convention headquarters that the party executive committee had decided to squelch the mention of any presidential candidates' names from the platform.

But a telegram from the Arizona senator to Talbot Peterson, Appleton, state GOP chairman, on Saturday morning "saved the day."

Two of the main Goldwater demonstration organizers were Ken Merkel Brookfield, and Wayne Olson, Waukesha. Olson is the organizer of the Wisconsin Conservative Party.

Wausau County GOP officials strong in their support for State Sen. Gerald Lorge of Bear Creek, were voicing concern Saturday morning at Lorge's "breakfast" in the Hotel Schroeder about the upcoming September Republican State Senate primary.

"There's no question," one official said, "that Lorge will win heavily in Wausau County, but Buckley will probably be strong in Appleton, Kaukauna, and the rest of urban Outagamie County where all the population is."

The Buckley he was referring to is George Buckley, an Appleton attorney, who is opposing Lorge for the GOP State Senate nomination.

Lorge invited all Wausau and Outagamie delegates to his coffee and sweet rolls event Saturday morning.

One of the early arrivals at the convention was Julius Spearbreaker of Clintonville, who was proudly telling old acquaintances that he had attended his first delegate meeting of the party 33 years ago in Madison.

The veteran insurance man was formerly a power in the state legislature, as Wausau County assemblyman and chairman of the State Assembly finance committee.

Literature and posters for Gov. Rockefeller of New York as a presidential candidate littered the convention hall, but committed supporters of the New Yorker appeared to be fairly few.

Zimmerman 'Prudent'

The only state candidate who did not decorate the convention hall and the hotel convention headquarters with campaign posters and literature was Secretary of State Robert C. Zimmerman, the Republican Party's champion vote-getter in previous years.

The agile Zimmerman, known for his thrift, apparently felt that such an expenditure was not necessary, or would be imprudent. He was said to prefer the expenditure for motor fuel to propel him on his assiduous and constant campaign tours of the state.

A young Philadelphia lawyer with a Wisconsin background was heading the "soft sell" campaign on behalf of Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, the reluctant candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

He is John Heider, whose brother Robert Heider of suburban Milwaukee is one of the rising lobbyists in the state capital of Madison.

Heider wasn't saying that his man is running. But he appeared anxious to explain his record and background to the Wisconsin national convention delegates and their alternates.

William Reink of San Prairie, endorsed without competition for the nomination for U.S. senator, was more worried that he was willing to admit

Fire Causes $500 Damage to Car Interior

DARBOY — Town of Buchanan volunteer firemen answered a fire call at 2 a.m. Friday to extinguish a car fire at the corner of Lake Park Road and County Trunk K. The car was being driven by the owner, Carl Kortz, 529 Grand Ave., Little Chute, when the fire occurred.

The fire started when Mrs. Kortz, a passenger in the car, accidentally dropped a lighted cigarette to the floor beneath the seat. The cigarette ignited a match folder which was under the seat.

Gerald Schaefer, chief of the Buchanan unit, estimated damage, which was confined to the interior of the car, at $500. Firemen extinguished the fire in 30 minutes.

Today in History

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, May 25, the 146th day of 1964. There are 220 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1787, the first session of the Constitutional Convention was held in Philadelphia, ostensibly to amend the old Articles of Confederation. As it turned out, however, the convention framed the Constitution we have today.

On this date: In 1863, poet, essayist and philosopher Ralph Waldo Emerson was born in Boston.

In 1862, Confederate Gen. Thomas J. (Stonewall) Jackson defeated Union forces at Winchester, Va.

In 1942, Gen. Joseph W. (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell arrived in New Delhi, India, after his epic retreat from Burma.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill held a joint news conference in Washington.

In 1944, the Anzio beachhead was linked to the main Allied front in Italy.

Ten years ago—A bomb, presumably intended for Gen. Augustin Guillaume, retiring resident general in French Morocco, exploded in Marrakesh just after his car had passed.

Five years ago—A United Nations world economic survey indicated the economies of Communist nations were growing at a more rapid rate than those of the free world.

One year ago—30 independent African states formed the Organization of African Unity at a conference in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Dorrell, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Dorrell, Ph.D.

SHOULD WIVES OPEN THEIR HUSBANDS' MAIL? YES ☐ NO ☐

No, except under very unusual circumstances. Magazines and other non-first class mail that is not personal can sometimes be opened if they have agreed on this. Sometimes, too, a letter from one of the children, or an emergency letter addressed to a husband who happens to be out of town might be regarded as an exception. But in general, the personal mail of a husband, wife and children should be regarded as personal and opened only by the one to whom it is addressed. There are many more such marital matters taken up in the popular booklet "Facing the Facts of Married Life." A copy's yours for 20 cents and a stamped, return envelope sent to this column, care of Appleton Post-Crescent.

Who has the most emotional problems? Jet pilot — Scientist — Lawyer —

Many years of experience as a psychiatrist have convinced Dr. Lawrence Kubie that young scientists have more emotional problems than do those in other professions. For one reason, most people can easily convince themselves of the truth of what ever they want to believe. The scientist has a harder time doing this in the field of his specialty. For another reason, the young scientist must discipline himself to long years of study and work when he must go without the things that other young people enjoy.

Are you edgy, irritable, easily upset? What are the reasons? What causes them? How can you overcome and control them? Concise, common-sense answers are yours in the booklet, "Tensions and How to Master Them." To get your copy, send 25 cents along with your name and address to: "Let's Explore Your Mind," care of Appleton Post-Crescent. Allow three weeks for delivery.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Mexican Peasant Seen as Modern Folk Hero

Pedro Martinez," Oscar Lewis' latest book, like his award-winning "Children of Sanchez," a landmark in anthropological literature. It is one of the books of the Appleton Pub- lishers.

Another tape-recorded real- life testimony. It is a big, bust- ling, brotherly hymn to down- town - out humanity. It is the troubled terrain of Mexico again, this time from revolutionary days of Villa, Lina and Carranza onward.

The scene of "Sanchez" was urban gutter of Mexico City; it is the southern village of Atlix. The tale is that of a peasant family told by three members: Pedro, the fa- ther; Esperanza, his wife, and Pepe, the eldest son.

That makes it so moving, so stirring? The tone is almost personally intimate, the mon- ic reminiscences colloquial, rarely, if ever, self-con- scious. Consider it a folk poem.

Senate Group Offers Plan On Succession

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Sen- ate subcommittee charged with studying presidential succession favors a constitutional amendment to permit the presi- dent to fill a vice-presidential vacancy, with approval of the Senate and House.

Four members of the six-man Judiciary subcommittee on Con- stitutional Amendments an- nounced Saturday their agree- ment in principle on this means filling a vice-presidential vacancy such as exists now.

They approved also altering the Constitution to provide the president to delegate his powers to the vice president when the chief executive is un- able to act, with Congress hav- ing the final say on whether the president is incapacitated.

May Act Wednesday

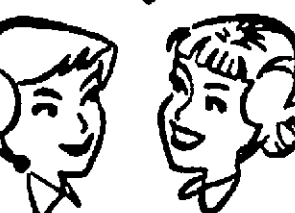

The subcommittee chairman, Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., re- leased the report in which he was joined by Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., and Hiram Long, R-Hawaii. He said the other two members, Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., and Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., were studying the proposal ac- cepted by the majority.

The statement said formal ac- tion probably will be taken Wednesday and there are in- dications it will be approved unanimously.

It was noted that the subcom- mittee choice is similar to a proposal submitted by the American Bar Association.

A constitutional amendment requires approval by a two- thirds vote in each branch of Congress and ratification by three-fourths of the states.
